Friday, 12-2, Public Lecture: Carlson Theater
- Keynote Address, “Valuing Climate Loss and Damage,” Andrew Light, George Mason University and World Resources Institute

Friday, 2:15-3: C120
- Northwest Center for the Philosophy for Children
  - “What’s Philosophy for Children? A fun sample session for philosophers and their friends,” Organized by Sara Goering, University of Washington, and Janice Moskalik, Seattle University

Friday 3-5: C120
- The Philosophy and Logic Associated Teachers of Washington
  - “PLATO-WA Workshop: Sharing and Brainstorming Innovative Assignments,” Organized by Rebeka Ferreira, Green River College

Friday 3-6, Concurrent Paper Sessions
- Session 1, Ethics & Social Epistemology: B204
  - “What We Should Talk About When We Talk About Gene Editing,” Bryan Cwik, Portland State University
    - Commentary: Monica Aufrecht, Bellevue College & Seattle Central College
  - “White Domination, Anti-Black Racism, and Recognition-Wrongs,” Nikolaos Maggos, University of Iowa
    - Commentary: Michelle Pham, University of Washington
  - “Testimonial injustice, children, and norms of credibility,” Gary Bartlett, Central Washington University
    - Commentary, Nikolaos Maggos, University of Iowa

- Session 2, Ethics: B104
  - “Persuasive Ethical Appeals for Mitigation Message Framing: A Survey of Americans’ Ethical Framing Preferences Regarding Climate Change,” Victoria DePalma, University of Idaho
    - Commentary, Joshua Anderson, Virginia State University
  - “Human Enhancement and Radical Virtue,” Benjamin Hole, Pacific University
    - Commentary, Paul Tubig, University of Washington
  - “Virtue, Character and Consequences,” Joshua Anderson, Virginia State University
    - Commentary, Victoria DePalma, University of Idaho

- Session 3, Kant: B101
  - “Schopenhauer's Critique of Kant's Ethical Theory,” Wayne Pomerleau, Gonzaga University
    - Commentary, Zoe Aleshire, Bellevue College
  - “Animal Suffering and Moral Salience: A Defense of Kant's Indirect View,” Matthew C. Altman, Central Washington University
    - Commentary, Timothy Linneman, Bellevue College
  - “The Enlightenment Foundation of Kant’s Moral Belief,” Ted Di Maria, Gonzaga University
    - Commentary, Sergia Hay, Pacific Lutheran University

- Session 4, M&E: B102
  - “Clark’s Predictive Processing, Emotions, and Stereotypes,” Adrienne Cochran, Highline College
    - Commentary, Ian O'Loughlin, Pacific University
    - Cassie Finley, Pacific University
  - 2017 Director’s Address: “Keith Lehrer on Compatibilism,” Joe Campbell, Washington State University, and Keith Lehrer, University of Arizona (not presenting)
    - No Commentary

Friday 6-9, Conference Banquet: C130
Saturday 8-9, Coffee and Conversations: C120
Saturday 9-12, Concurrent Paper Sessions

- Session 5, Ethics & Action: C120
    - Commentary, Janice Moskalik, Seattle University
  - “Against the Ubiquity of Trying,” Kevin Falvey, University of California, Santa Barbara
    - Commentary, Avery Archer, George Washington University
  - “Acceptance Cognitivism,” Avery Archer, George Washington University
    - Commentary, Kevin Falvey, University of California, Santa Barbara

- Session 6, History of Philosophy: B204
  - “Spinoza: From Art to Philosophy,” Joshua Kerr, University of Oregon
    - Commentary, Melanie Tate, University of Washington
  - “Nietzsche’s Ubermensche: The Ontological, Psychological & Axiological Ground,” Dave Heise, Humboldt State University
    - Commentary, Clayton Bohnet, Central Washington University
  - “The Boundary between Logic & Philosophy in Kant and Hegel,” Clayton Bohnet, Central Washington University
    - Dave Heise, Humboldt State University

- Session 7, Moral and Political Philosophy: B104
  - “Self-ownership, Self-constraints, and Redistribution,” Craig Vander Hart, Wenatchee Valley College
    - Commentary, Paul Herrick, Shoreline Community College
    - Commentary, Blake Hereth, University of Washington
    - Commentary, Marcus Hedahl, US Naval Academy

- Session 8, M&E: B102
  - “The Paradoxes of Questions,” Davis Smith, Pierce College
    - Commentary, Andrew Jeffrey, UMUC, Green River College, and Pierce College
  - “Naturalness and Inductive Inference,” Sven Neth, University of California, Berkeley
    - Commentary, Gary Bartlett, Central Washington University
  - “Two Millennia-Old Scientific Predictions: The Beginning of the Universe,” Jim Slagle, University of Portland
    - Commentary, Anthony Ferrucci, Green River College

- Session 9, History of Philosophy: B101
    - Commentary, Michael Goerger, Central Washington University
  - “Rosenzweig’s Star and Systems Theory,” Martin Zwick, Portland State University
    - Commentary, David F. Hoinski, West Virginia University
  - “The Moral Self in Buddhism and Late Stoicism,” Michael Goerger, Central Washington University
    - Commentary, Martin Zwick, Portland State University

Saturday 12 – 1, Lunch: Cafeteria (C building)
Saturday 1-3, Public Lecture: B204
- Keynote Address, “Ethics and Intergenerational Climate Extortion,” Stephen M. Gardiner, University of Washington

Saturday 3-5: B204
- Local Public Philosophy Groups
  - “Philosophy beyond the academy: Local philosophy groups,” Organized by Gene Lin, unaffiliated, and Sergia Hay, Pacific Lutheran University