

Ways to Get Involved with ATD

Ways to get involved	Why get involved?	Who should get involved?
Teach a First Year Seminar (FYS) class; Join the FYS committee or serve as a guest speaker	To support incoming/new BC students and help them learn how to be successful in college	Current BC full or part time faculty (teach FYS) Faculty and Staff (guest speakers)
Assist with Early Alert student follow up - watch for e-mails about this throughout the quarter	To support student success in the classroom.	Any BC employee
Join the Guided Pathways team	To ensure that students are informed about their pathway to successfully achieve their goals.	Current BC full or part time faculty
Refer a student to be a peer educator	To help students get involved and be aware of BC's student success efforts.	Any BC employee
Take a workshop through the Faculty Commons	To learn and build new skills to use inside or outside the classroom.	Any BC employee
Share your story: Tell us how you have helped support student achievements at BC; Share student stories about their achievements	This helps others see how important even the smallest acts can change a life.	Any BC employee or student
Stay informed: Visit the ATD website for status and updates	This helps you stay connected with the ATD work.	Any BC employee
