Still Time to Enroll Children & Teens in BCC Summer Camps and Programs

BCC Kids Camp in July and August offers fun learning activities such as music, movement and hands-on discovery for children 3-5. For more details call (425) 564-2365.

Baseball Camps for 8-10 and 10-12 year olds are offered in July and August, running Mon-Fri from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. BCC also offers specialized camps in pitching and hitting. Applicants are encouraged to register before the school year ends. For more details, please call (425) 564-2351 or go online at www.bellevuecollege.edu/athletics/baseball/camp.stm.

BCC Summer Science Camp for 5th and 6th grade students takes place August 13-17. There will be two separate sessions, one held in the morning and one in the afternoon. For more information, please go online at <http://scidiv.bcc.ctc.edu/scicamp/>.

Summer Reading, for youngsters in kindergarten through high school, is designed to improve reading speed, comprehension and enjoyment. For specific dates and information, please call 1-800-979-8980.

Register Early for Summer and Fall Quarters

Registration starts in May for Summer and Fall Quarters at BCC! Summer Quarter classes begin June 25 and Fall Quarter classes begin Sept. 24. Registration for both quarters opens May 14 for continuing students and June 4 for new and returning students.

Full academic calendars for both quarters are available online at www.bellevuecollege.edu/enrollment/calendar. The summer schedule is online now and the fall schedule will be available in late April.

Two ways to register:

On the Web: www.bcc.ctc.edu/enrollment/registration/register/
In person: Stop by the Student Services Bldg. on the main campus.

For more information or assistance call (425) 564-2222.

Perform in a Summer Musical

After the success of BCC's first summer musical last year, BCC will present Cabaret this summer. The production will be performed in a cabaret setting with the audience seated at tables with chairs in the Stop Gap Theatre August 2-5.

This is a fantastic opportunity for high school students (ages 16+) to perform in a college setting and receive college credit. It is also a great opportunity for community members of all ages to perform. For audition information, please contact Tammis Doyle at (425) 563-2319 or tdoyle@bcc.ctc.edu.

Intensive Classes, Shorter Session Leave Time for Work or Play

Whether you're a home-for-summer college student or a high school student entering college for the first time in the fall, BCC provides a great way to take freshman and sophomore-level courses, then transfer the credits to your four-year school – and still leave you plenty of time to enjoy the summer.

Earn a quarter's worth of credits in just seven weeks with intensive classes during BCC's Summer Quarter. Classes are scheduled Monday through Thursday, still leaving you three-day weekends for summer fun or employment. Many classes meet in longer sessions only once or twice weekly.

College Students

It's a popular way to pick up a few extra college credits for students who are home for the summer from Washington State, Western Washington, Eastern Washington and out-of-state universities. Local schools, including the University of Washington, Seattle Pacific and Seattle University also accept transfer credit for most classes. Last summer, more than 1,000 students from in-state four-year universities took BCC summer classes.

Make constructive use of your summer by getting a jump start on your requirements such as:

- Arts & Humanities – English 101/Written Expression or Speech 100/Basic Principles of Oral Communication.
- Science – Geology 101/Survey of Geology or Biology 101/General Biology
- Social Science – Anthropology 202/Cultural Anthropology or Economics 200/Macroeconomics

See full course listings for details and other course offerings that advance you toward completing your degree. Before registering, be sure to confirm which universities your course will transfer to. Go to the BCC advising website at www.bellevuecollege.edu/advising/transfer.asp or call (425) 564-2212.

High School Students

High school students earn college credits through BCC's High School Enrichment program, designed for those 16 or 17 years old who wish to enrich their high school education by taking challenging college courses. Enrichment classes are offered year-round, but are especially popular during the summer. To get a jump on your college education, please call (425) 564-2026.

Professionals

Many professionals find BCC summer classes a convenient and economical way to add to or update their skills. Many teachers take summer classes at BCC's main campus or through our Continuing Education program at our north campus to meet SPI requirements for clock hours. You can register online at www.bellevuecollege.edu.

New Library Media Center Combines “Comfy” with High Tech

The visually impressive new Library Media Center (LMC), located in Room D-126, is a comfortable place that invites study, learning and leisure.

With upholstered chairs, high ceilings and plenty of natural light, it's a haven where you want to curl up with a book or magazine and stay awhile. The ambience is very different from the cramped quarters in the L Building where the library was housed for more than two years while the D Building was reconstructed.

“The library keeps evolving to reflect changes in technology and the diversity of the student body, including ethnicity, language, learning styles, special needs and whether they are on-campus or online students,” said Myra Van Vactor, Director of the Library Media Center. “One example is a growing collection of books and magazines for ESL students,”

An increasing number of digital options are available on the library's website (www.bellevuecollege.edu/lmc), and accessible from anywhere you can use a computer, making it convenient for students who have limited time to come to the library, or distance education students.

Reference Materials, Resources

Stop by the reference desk, call (425) 564-6161 or bccref@bcc.ctc.edu for research help and answers to general questions. The library offers an extensive collection of books, plays, ESL materials, scholarly journals, magazines and newspapers. You can search the entire BCC library catalog, place holds and re-new books online at: www.bellevuecollege.edu/lmc/media.html.

Interlibrary Loan Capabilities

Did you know you can get you books from hundreds of libraries across the country? Ask library staff about the free Interlibrary Loan service. Access to BCC and other library catalogs, research guides, tutorials, topical Web links and more is available 24/7 on and off-campus through the LMC website: www.bellevuecollege.edu/lmc.

Rooms for Student Use

“The newly remodeled library has many more study and viewing rooms where students can collaborate, prepare projects, or hold group discussions and practice presentations and get video feedback, and ASL students can “sign” their homework,” said Adam Burke, Media Center manager. There are also study, viewing and listening carrels for individuals throughout the library.

New Electronic Media Options

Burke can't bridle his enthusiasm for the new media equipment and facilities. Viewing and production facilities for students, faculty and staff include: a 40-person multi-media viewing room, three 6-person viewing rooms and multi-media editing suite. For a $2 an hour rental fee there are editing suites where, unlike those in the open computer lab, you don't have to be a media student to use them. The suites contain computers with FinalCutPro editing software. There are four editing bays: one audio and three video.

“We have surround sound like in movie theatres,” said Burke. Surround sound is the name for a variety of techniques for expanding and enriching the sound of audio playback created by recording additional sound channels that can be reproduced on additional speakers. “It helps the students taking animation, computer gaming and movie-making classes,” said Burke, “It's helpful to see and hear old movies and get the full effect of the sound from the original movie.”

Instructor Michael Korolenko agrees: "In my Comm 103 Media and Messages class, we spend an entire week on motion picture sound and why it is so important. Surround sound gives you the feeling that whatever is happening on screen is going on all around you. Jets seem to fly overhead, explosions are heard behind you, and yells are heard in front of you. When you have bad sound, you lose a major component of the motion-picture experience."

Online Catalog of Videos, CDs, DVDs & Tapes

Audiovisual and digital materials include DVDs, videos, CDs, records, cassettes and audio books. Another new feature is the online catalog of more than 344 feature films. Students can view the videos in one of the video viewing rooms for up to three hours.

Computers, Internet and Wireless Access

"We lend out laptops as well as network cards for campus use," said Burke. Use the LMC's computer workstations to access all of BCC's online resources and the Internet. Additional computers are set up to be usable by students with disabilities or special needs. Wireless network access is also available.

LMC Online: www.bellevuecollege.edu/lmc

The LMC subscribes to a number of full-text periodical databases, e-book and reference collections that include:

- EBSCOhost and ProQuest databases, providing indexing and full-text coverage of thousands of popular and scholarly periodicals that cover the humanities, social sciences, business and science.
- CQ Researcher and Opposing Viewpoints, providing overviews and discussions on social and political issues.
- Full-text newspaper databases, such as Ethnic Newswatch, Washington State Newsstand and the historical New York Times (1851 – 2003).
- Full text of Chronicle of Higher Education, Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, and New York Times.
- Corbis, a database of digital images in a range of subjects.
- E-books on current events, controversial topics, information technology and health
- Digital dictionaries and other reference sources.

English–Combination Classes

ARTS & HUMANITIES DIVISION

The English Department's "combination classes" give students the opportunity to approach two topics at the same time to improve their skills and understanding of both. For example, in a 10-credit composition and literature combination, students read, discuss, analyze, and write about significant literary works. The Department recommends that students in combination classes have college-level placement.

Ethnic & Cultural StudiesSOCIAL SCIENCE DIVISION

The Ethnic & Cultural Studies Department is interdisciplinary in nature, coordinating the courses, activities, and projects that will enhance students' abilities to function in our increasingly multicultural, multiethnic world. Courses draw on methodologies and theories from both the social sciences and humanities, allowing students to develop an understanding of multiple perspectives and to connect ideas across disciplines. In view of increasing diversity in the U.S. and globalization worldwide, the department provides students with a focus on ethnic and cultural issues, exposure to scholarship from historically underrepresented groups, and preparation to live in a culturally complex world.

Interdisciplinary StudiesARTS & HUMANITIES DIVISION

Interdisciplinary Studies combines the study of several subjects into one integrated course or "learning community," usually for ten or more credits. Each IDS course features a theme that forms a common thread across disciplines.

The focus of these courses is YOU. Students learn with each other and from each other by discussing readings in small groups (seminars), taking part in group activities, and, in some courses, by taking field trips. These programs emphasize the process of learning as well as course content. The student-centered, discussion-oriented format encourages and supports different points of view and creates a social climate that promotes collaborative learning.

For additional information regarding the Interdisciplinary Studies program, contact The Arts and Humanities Division at (425) 564-2341.

Plan to include one of these courses in your studies during the 2007-2008 academic year:

The Venture Program

SELECTIVE DEGREE PROGRAM

The Venture Program is a degree program designed to help prepare highly motivated young adults challenged with learning, cognitive, and intellectual disabilities for careers and independence. The Associate in Occupational and Life Skills, the first degree program of its kind in the nation, combines academics, social and life skills, and workforce development.

Typically, students pursuing the Venture Program have received extensive special services in K-12 and generally attain scores below average range on standardized tests of intellectual ability and academic performance.

We understand that students seeking the Venture Program would likely have considerable difficulty in a traditional college program which is why we focus on the "whole person." This focus provides individuals with the opportunity to reach their full potential. The Venture faculty team has expertise in educating students with special needs, extensive experience and/or advanced degrees in education or a related field. Classes are small and socially engaging.

To receive further information or an admissions packet, please contact the Venture Program at venture@bellevuecollege.edu or (425) 564-2844, or check the website at www.bellevuecollege.edu/venture.

1 What is Distance Education?

Distance Education at BCC is designed for students who prefer to learn at home, according to their own schedules. Distance Education students get the same breadth and depth of material and earn the same college credit as students in classrooms do. Distance Education students need the self-motivation and self-discipline to focus, set goals, and complete course assignments on time without daily face-to-face contact with an instructor.

Although you save time commuting to campus, you still need to put in the hours a college-level course requires to absorb material, read textbooks, and complete assignments and exams.

Is Distance Education right for you? Take the self-assessment test online at <http://distance-ed.bcc.ctc.edu/>.

2 Distance Education Options

Telecourses (page 29)

Televised courses at BCC combine video programs, textbooks, study guides, and on-campus orientation and review sessions.

What do you need to succeed in a telecourse?

- Attendance is mandatory for on-campus orientation and exam sessions. Some courses have other mandatory attendance requirements, especially for lab sciences and foreign languages. Check the course listings for details.
- A way to view to video materials. (See page 29 for viewing options.)

Online courses (pages 29-31)

Online classes are conducted over the Internet. Students must access each online class daily for assignments, discussion, etc.

Successful online learning requires:

- The motivation and self-discipline to focus, set goals, and complete assignments on time without daily face-to-face contact with an instructor.

What do you need to succeed in online learning?

- The ability to learn from written materials, including lectures, e-mails, threaded discussions, and chat rooms.
- A good working knowledge of your computer and your Internet Service Provider (ISP), including e-mail.
- The ability to learn and use WebCT Vista and specialized software when required, for our web-based courses.
- Appropriate hardware and software. (See information for online students on page 29).

3 How to Get Started

- If you are new to BCC, apply for admissions (www.bellevuecollege.edu or see page 36).
- Register in person or online at www.bellevuecollege.edu.
- Pay fees (Additional fees apply in some cases, e.g., science labs).
- Read How to Start Winter Quarter at: <http://distance-ed.bcc.ctc.edu> (some online classes have specific information; check the listings for details).
- Buy textbooks.

OAS? TAC? Item Numbers & Sections

Most Distance Ed classes have two item numbers for the same class. Here's what the code letters mean:

O = online

T = telecourse

A, B, C, etc. = the section designator

S = state-support basis

C = contract basis

The section you should choose and the per-class costs for it will depend on your Washington State residency and your U.S. residency and citizenship status.

Check the website at <http://distance-ed.bcc.ctc.edu/tuition/> or call (425) 564-2438 for details.

BCC Distance Education classes follow the college's academic calendar.

Please see page 5 for start and end dates, withdrawal deadlines, etc.

TELECOURSES

Information for telecourse students

Telecourse instruction incorporates video programs, textbooks, study guides and/or lab materials, and on-campus review sessions with BCC instructors.

Attendance is required at the orientation (first review) session and all sessions where exams will be given. Individual instructors may require additional attendance.

There are several ways you can view the video programs. To view the programs on The College Channel, the college campus television station, you need access to Comcast Cable. The College Channel is broadcast throughout King County on Channel 28, except within the Seattle city limits.

The same programs are available for viewing and/or overnight checkout from the Library Media Center on campus. There is no charge to check out these videotapes.

Students registered in a telecourse may also rent sets of videotapes or DVDs for a non-refundable fee of $30/set/quarter. The materials must be returned at the end of the quarter. Questions? Call the Distance Education Office at (425) 564-2438 for information.

Erin Graves Earned a Degree Online

"I earned my degree in two years exactly and went to school year-round from my home in Weberg, Germany," says BCC Distance Education graduate Erin Graves. "Being an online student is easier than having to balance your day around a few classes you have to attend on campus. I could be online any time."

BCC Grad Cites 'Quality of Program' in Winning National Essay Contest

Michael Bailey, a 2005 Bellevue Community College radiation therapy graduate who also will be part of the college's first class of bachelor's degree students in radiation and imaging sciences, is the winner of a national essay contest of the Community College Baccalaureate Association (CCBA).

The $1,000 prize was presented at the CCBA conference in New Orleans in March. The contest essay topic was, "Why is it important for me to earn my baccalaureate degree on my community college campus?"

"BCC radiation therapy graduates (two-year degrees) continually rank high in American Registry of Radiologic Technologists (ARRT) reports," Bailey wrote. "This is quite noteworthy as this national certification report includes not just associate programs nationwide, but baccalaureate and hospital based programs as well. Because BCC already ranks so high, I prefer to stay at BCC to complete my education as most cancer centers already acknowledge the quality of the program and its reputation for graduating qualified radiation therapists."

"I plan to be in the first group of [BCC baccalaureate] graduates," Bailey added, "to show the legislators and the people of Washington that BCC, a community college, is on the forefront of providing the region with highly-trained individuals in the field of health care."

Bailey works as a radiation therapist at Swedish Cancer Institute in Seattle.

Is a Bachelor's Degree in Radiation and Imaging Sciences Right for You?

Bellevue Community College is proud to offer the first bachelor of applied science (BAS) degree program in radiation and imaging sciences in Washington state. If you are a practicing professional in the radiation or imaging sciences, or a graduate of a program in radiologic technology, diagnostic ultrasound, radiation therapy, or nuclear medicine, BCC's new degree program offers you the opportunity to get a bachelor's degree in your field and prepare for jobs that require advanced certifications or supervisory and management skills.

Benefits for the Practicing Professional

BCC's program addresses the acute need for more people with advanced radiation and imaging skills and the ability to manage imaging and radiation departments at hospitals and clinics. Professionals in the field of radiation and imaging sciences helped develop the curriculum to ensure that your courses will be relevant and useful in helping you prepare for advanced work in your field.

- Further your knowledge in your field
- Become certified in a related technology
- Compete for supervisory or management jobs in your field
- Complete an advanced degree (without leaving Washington state)

To better serve students in other areas of the state, classes in the program will be offered using a "distance" format – conducted via the Internet or interactive television – as well as in face-to-face classroom sessions on the BCC campus.

Choose One of Two Pathways

Designed for the working professional, this career-oriented program offers two different pathways:

- Radiation and Imaging Management (RAIM) is for students who wish to lead radiation and imaging departments and clinics.
- Radiation and Imaging Technology (RAIT) is for students seeking advanced technical expertise leading to additional certification.

Classes begin September and will be scheduled during evenings and weekends to minimize interference with your work schedule. Required courses are offered on a regular rotation cycle to accommodate the needs of the part-time student.

For more information, please visit www.bellevuecollege.edu/bas or contact the BAS program office at (425) 564-2264.

Complete your Bachelor's Degree at Bellevue Community College

Take upper-level classes on BCC's campus through Eastern Washington University

Eastern Washington University and Bellevue Community College are working together to offer career advancement opportunities through high-quality bachelor's degree completion programs. In spring of 2005 the two schools formally committed to the creation of Eastern Washington University @ Bellevue, a university center on the BCC campus offering upper division courses that lead to four of EWU's bachelor's degrees:

BS IN APPLIED TECHNOLOGY:

EWU's Bachelor of Science in Technology degree program allows students to continue their education by taking liberal arts courses, additional advanced technology courses and supporting courses to complete a Bachelor of Science degree. If you have an Associate in Applied Science (AAS) degree from an eligible program, such as BCC's, you can complete the bachelor's program right here on the Bellevue Community College campus.

BA IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION:

EWU's Business program provides a balance of theoretical foundation and practical application, with an emphasis on analysis, critical thinking and intellectual inquiry. Students will gain an understanding of economic, social, ethical, and legal business environments along with principals of accounting, finance, management, marketing, production, and quantitative analysis.

BA IN CHILDREN'S STUDIES:

EWU's major in Children's Studies is part of a four-year higher education BA degree that includes Core courses and Option C that focuses primarily on Early Childhood Education (ECE). Building on ECE from associate degree-granting institutions, such as BCC, the Children's Studies program is concerned with the study and practice of the holistic development, learning, and social issues of young children.

BA IN INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES:

EWU's Interdisciplinary Studies degree can be tailored to entrance requirements for graduate schools, professional programs or specialty career fields. Students will gain research and statistical skills as well as a solid foundation in the Social Sciences. Enjoy a wide and varied curriculum with courses in Economics, Government, Sociology, Communication Studies, Psychology, Anthropology, History, Geography, and Women's Studies.

See course listings and get more information by going on the Web to: www.ewu.edu/bcc.

Basic Information

Eligibility for BCC

If you are 18 or older or have earned a high school diploma, you are welcome to apply for admission and take college credit classes. High school students may enroll at BCC; contact the High School Programs Office, (425) 564-2026.

How to Enroll in Credit Classes

1. Admission

If you are new to BCC or returning after two or more quarters, you will need to submit an admission application. Please access the BCC website, www.bellevuecollege.edu to apply. BCC requires an admissions fee of $26.55 for your application to be processed. By applying early you will receive information about when you may begin enrolling, and information about assessment, advising, and other steps to follow. You can also learn your registration time online after your admission fee has been received and the application is processed. If you do not meet the admissions deadline, you may still register for classes. See Registration section (#4 below). Follow online application instructions for payment. Attach payment to paper applications. Admission fee is non-refundable.

2. Assessment

An English and math assessment and advising is mandatory for first-time college students and strongly recommended for all others. It identifies your skill level and appropriate course placement and is required before registering for some classes.

Call (425) 564-2243 or go to www.bellevuecollege.edu/enrollment/assessment/testing for specific dates and times.

Assessments are given in room B132. Please bring picture ID and the $17.80 assessment fee.

You may also take math and English assessments in the North Campus Testing Center, on a space-available basis. Call (425) 564-4006 for available times.

Student Confidentiality/FERPA: Notice is hereby given that Bellevue Community College has adopted institutional procedures in compliance with Public Law 93-380, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. It provides students with the opportunity to view their educational records upon request. In addition, no information contained in a student's file will be released to any individual or organization without prior written consent of the student concerned. This does not include directory information (name of student, degree or certificate awarded, dates of attendance, athletic statistics, scholarships received, membership or position in BCC student government or honor society, part-time or full-time student status, previous schools attended, e-mail address). Exceptions also include those records requested by subpoena, in emergency situations, in compliance with the Solomon Amendment (Military requests), Department of Education requests, Patriot Act requests, IRS Hope Scholarship and Lifetime Learning tax credit programs, and information provided to the National Student Clearinghouse. Students may request, through written notice, that the college not release directory information through the Student Services Office.

3. Drop-In Academic Advising

Beginning June 4, faculty and staff advisors will be on hand to review your assessment scores, discuss degree options, help you choose your classes, design an educational plan, and assist you with registration. See below for details.

NOTE: First-time- to-college students are required to take assessments and bring the scores to the advising and registration appointment.

Where to start:

- Assessment: B132 (see # 2)

Other Fees:

Certain classes require fees for laboratory use, licensing, Internet service provider, etc. These fees are identified in the class listing. Tuition & fee waivers generally do not apply.

Fees for Distance Education and Self-Supporting Programs:

The cost of each Distance Education class includes a licensing fee. For more information, call (425) 564-2438 or visit the website at <http://distance-ed.bcc.ctc.edu>.

Certain BCC programs are self-supporting—that is, they receive no state funding. They have their own fee structures and do not grant tuition and fee waivers. In these programs you pay the full fee regardless of your residency status. Check with the program for details.

Transcript Fee

Official transcripts cost $5.50 each. For instructions on ordering transcripts, call (425) 564-2222 or go to the website at www.bellevuecollege.edu/enrollment/records/.

Refunds for Withdrawing or Dropping

If you withdraw from the college or drop classes, you may be eligible for a refund. The college begins to process refunds after the third day of classes. A $7.90 processing fee is deducted from the refund amount.

The amount refunded is based on your withdrawal or drop date for courses that begin the first week of the quarter. See calendar (p. 5) for the last days for 100% and 50% refunds. Classes with alternate start and end dates will be governed by a different refund policy. Please contact enrollment services.

If the college drops you from classes for disciplinary reasons you will not be eligible for a refund. Some fees are identified as non-refundable in the class listings. Self-supporting programs may have different refund policies. Contact the program office for details.

Refunds under $25 will not be processed but will be applied to the next academic quarter.

Residency

Your Washington State residency status determines your basic tuition for most college credit classes. If you have questions about eligibility requirements for residency for tuition purposes, please contact the residency office at (425) 564-4143 or (425) 564-2205. Information is also available online at www.bellevuecollege.edu/enrollment/admissions/eligibility/.

Note: Residency status affects tuition & fees for state-supported classes only. Self-supporting programs charge the same amounts for residents and non-residents.

State Support for Community & Technical College Students

The Washington legislature wants students to know how much the state contributes to the cost of their instruction at community and technical colleges (RCW 28B.10.-44). The following chart shows support by tuition category averaged statewide for academic year 2006-07.

| | Undergraduate student category: | |
|--|---------------------------------|---------------|
| | Residents | Non-Residents |
| Total instructional cost per FTE student | $6,192 | $6,192 |
| (less estimated tuition & operating fees paid) | ($2,073) | $6,892 |
| Net state support per FTE student | $4,119 | — |

In addition to supporting basic instructional costs, students also receive state-supported financial aid, including local or institutional financial aid funds:

| | | |
|--|-------|------|
| State financial aid appropriated per FTE student | $638 | $73 |
| Institutional financial aid fund | $45 | n/a |

BCC encourages carpooling and alternative transportation. Students who drive alone are advised to allow extra time to locate a parking spot, particularly during the first few weeks of a quarter.

Bus Passes

Several Metro bus lines serve the BCC main campus or the nearby Eastgate park-and-ride lot. Students are eligible for bus passes at a discount; come to Cashiering in the Student Services Building.

Parking & Traffic Rules

Based on WAC 132H-116.

For more complete information about parking and traffic rules at BCC, contact Public Safety at (425) 564-2400.

Parking Permits

BCC students who have paid tuition and comprehensive fees are entitled to parking permits for their vehicles. Student parking permits are available from the Cashier's Office (B126) or the Public Safety Office (K100). Parking permits are required for parking 6:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

General Parking Rules

Student daytime parking is limited to areas designated Student Parking.

Staff/faculty daytime parking is limited to areas designated Employee Parking.

Parking after 3:00 p.m. for students, staff, and faculty is available in all designated parking areas with the exceptions of parking spaces for the disabled, the college motor pool, and specifically signed reserved areas. Students may not park in employee lots with signage stating "No Student Parking Anytime Mon - Fri."

Park one vehicle to a space, between a set of white lines.

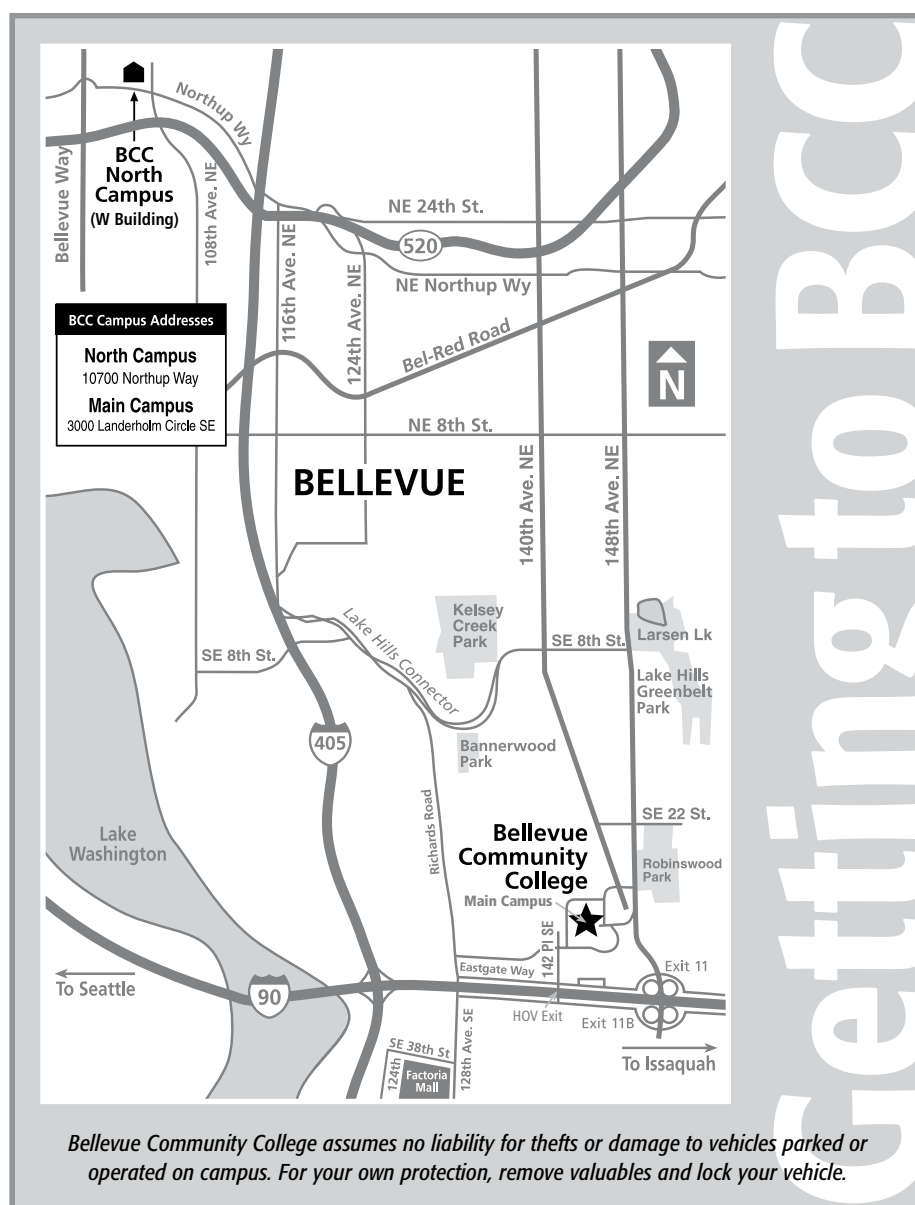

No one may park at any time in roadways, fire lanes, bus zones, loading zones, service driveways, on sidewalks; or in the landscaping. No one may park in a reserved space without the appropriate permit or authorization.

Students & Staff with Disabilities

You may park in a space reserved for the disabled only if your vehicle displays a valid "Disabled Persons Parking Identification Placard" issued by the state of Washington. Disabled parking is available in most parking lots and in C-7 on the west side of campus.

Visitors

Visitors may park in Lot 4, or in the short-term parking stalls around campus.

Carpools

The first floor of the student parking garage is reserved for student carpools of 3 or more people. Carpool permits are available from the Public Safety Office and must be displayed on the dashboard of the carpool's vehicle.

Blocking the Roadway

Waiting for a space to open up can create gridlock for everyone. Please come a little earlier or walk a little farther. Violators may be cited and their vehicles may be booted or towed.

Speed Limit

The speed limit on campus is 20 miles per hour unless driving conditions require a slower speed.

Pedestrians

Pedestrians have the right of way at all times except for emergency vehicles using lights, sirens, etc.

Citations and Appeals

Fines for violations range from $10 to $100. You may be ticketed for parking without a permit, parking in an unauthorized area, blocking a roadway, speeding, etc. If you do not pay the fine listed on the ticket, the college may delay your registration, place a hold on your transcripts or financial aid, or impound (tow away) your vehicle.

If you wish to appeal your ticket fill out a citation appeal form in the Public Safety Office (K100). You must file the appeal within 20 days after getting the ticket.
