

ANTH& 100–Survey of Anthropology On-Line (Sections 5056 & 5057)

SUMMER QUARTER – 2015 BELLEVUE COLLEGE, WA

ON-LINE SYLLABUS

Welcome to Anthropology!!! Anthropologists are scientists who study the interplay of cultural and biological characteristics of modern and ancient human beings. We travel far and wide and generations back in time in order to understand where we came from, where we are now, where we are going, and our impact on the planet. As a comparative science, anthropologists study the traditions and customs from around the globe as well as those from our own societies. This course will offer a new perspective of your cultural heritage(s) and a deeper understanding of human history and diversity, as it emphasizes global, evolutionary, and sustainable perspectives.

WHAT IS THIS COURSE ABOUT AND WHAT ARE ITS OBJECTIVES?

Anthropology 100 is a 5-credit course that introduces you to the academic discipline of anthropology. You are exposed to the basic underlying principles, theories, and methods of the discipline through lectures, textbook readings, media, assignments, and quizzes. This introductory course will explore the 4 subdisciplines (or fields) of anthropology: Archaeology, Biological Anthropology, Cultural Anthropology, and Linguistics. Numerous contemporary cultures, as studied by the ethnologist, will be discussed in a comparative fashion in the cultural anthropology section of this course. As biological anthropologists, we will explore the general topic of evolution and specifically how it applies to humans, and we will look at our primate relatives to analyze our similarities and differences with them. The viewpoint of archaeology will enhance your understanding of human pre-history and history, and an introduction to linguistics will provide you with the basics of studying human communication. We will also discuss how various types of anthropologists go about collecting their data, and the rewards and challenges of conducting fieldwork in anthropology.

WHAT IS THE COURSE CATALOG DESCRIPTION for ANTH& 100?

An introductory course on the cultures and biology of humans, from scientific and humanistic perspectives. Explores all four fields of anthropology: archaeology (ancient cultures), cultural anthropology (contemporary cultures and cultural diversity), biological anthropology (primates, genetics, evolution, and human biological diversity), and linguistics (language and communication).

WHO IS TEACHING THIS COURSE?

Hello! I'm Dr. Gonlin, also known as "Dr G". I have a Ph.D. in Anthropology from Penn State University and have been trained in all four fields of anthropology. I have taught for 28 years; 16 at BC, and also for Eastern Washington University, The University of Georgia, Kennesaw State University, and Penn State. My fieldwork has been primarily in Latin America, but I have first-hand knowledge of dozens of different countries through my extensive travels around the globe. As a Registered Professional Archaeologist (RPA), I am an expert on the pre-Columbian Classic Maya civilization of Mexico and Central America. Hablo Español. My research focuses on ancient households, gender and class, ritual and ideology, tropical adaptations, and cultural ecology. You can find some of my publications in BC's library. In the photo below ↓, I am visiting the Petroglyph National Monument near Albuquerque, New Mexico.

WHAT IS THE RHYTHM OF THIS COURSE?

READ THIS SECTION VERY CAREFULLY

IF YOU CANNOT ADJUST YOUR SCHEDULE TO THE RHYTHM OF THE CLASS, YOU WILL HAVE DIFFICULTY SUCCEEDING IN THIS COURSE.
DEADLINES ARE FINAL. Only ON-TIME ASSIGNMENTS ARE ACCEPTED.

The on-line class has a very different rhythm from on-campus classes, and each on-line course is different from other on-line courses. In this class, the first day of the 'on-line week' begins on a Wednesday morning at 12:01 AM and runs until a Tuesday night at 11:59 PM when topics for that week are concluded.

There are six major components to the course: 1) reading the textbook; 2) viewing the PowerPoint slides which are not narrated; 3) viewing various media; 4) discussions; 5) quizzes; and 6) a comprehensive final exam.

1) Reading the Textbook: it will be extremely difficult to pass this course without reading the textbook. It is your responsibility to purchase the textbook. It is up to you to decide the best time to complete each week's assigned readings, but they should be completed before other assignments are due in the same week.

2) Viewing the PowerPoints: For each major section of the course, there are accompanying PowerPoint slides that you can download and/or print. The PowerPoint slides come from the textbook publisher and there are a few PowerPoints that your professor has posted. These slides are not narrated so that you can proceed at your own pace.

3) Viewing Media links: A number of short media presentations (YouTube, TedTalks, etc.) are incorporated into each week's materials. Please be sure to view the links before completing discussions and quizzes.

4) Discussions: There are six discussions in this course. After preparing for each discussion by completing background research, each discussion has three main parts. First, you must post a commentary (findings from your analysis/research and scientific consideration about the discussion topic) before you post replies to your peers. This commentary (or initial post) should be submitted early in the online week. Second, you need to read at least 15 commentaries of other students in class. As the professor, it is possible to see how many postings each student has viewed. Third, each student is to make a minimum of two different replies on the commentaries of other students in the latter part of the week, up until 11:59 PM on Tuesday night when the discussion board closes. Replies should be submitted after your commentary and after you have had a chance to read other commentaries.

No late commentaries or replies are accepted for any reasons, so please do not ask the professor to make exceptions just for you. Deadlines are clearly marked.

5) Quizzes: A quiz can be taken any time during the online week, but it closes on a Tuesday night at 11:59 PM. There are 6 quizzes and each is worth 100 points. Seventy-five minutes is allotted to complete a quiz. No late quizzes are accepted for any reason. In order to submit the quiz on time, it needs to be started at least 75 minutes before the due date/time. All quizzes must be submitted on time to count for credit. Please do not ask for extensions since they will not be granted.

6) Final Exam: There is a comprehensive final exam that will be available during the end of the course. It must be submitted at the very latest by Thursday, August 13. The final will focus on the textbook chapters and consist of 50 multiple choice questions worth 100 points.

PLEASE NOTE: THERE IS NO EXTRA-CREDIT OFFERED IN THIS COURSE. IF YOU NEED HELP, PLEASE ASK THE PROFESSOR OR UTILIZE THE FREE TUTORING SERVICES OF THE COLLEGE.

WHAT GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS ARE FULFILLED BY THIS COURSE?

1. Articulate an understanding of the breadth of anthropology, its main fields (archaeology, biological anthropology, cultural anthropology, and linguistics) and their ties to the sciences and humanities.
2. Recognize, identify, and employ the scientific method in anthropology, and to distinguish coherent arguments based on such principles from other claims.
3. Identify critical components in anthropological thought, especially in regard to ethnocentrism and cultural relativism.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of the range of human cultural and biological variation in the past and present from an evolutionary perspective.
5. Convey the importance of language in culture and society.
6. Explain the relevance of the anthropological perspective to global issues and cultural diversity.

HOW CAN STUDENTS BE ENVIRONMENTALLY-FRIENDLY?

Student Sustainability Guidelines: “Students are expected to make decisions that have the smallest environmental impact while maximizing student learning. These decisions include:

- Think before printing documents for this class, adjust printable margins, print double-sided & reuse paper for scrap paper.
- Turn in papers electronically or when necessary turn in printed assignments double-sided, single-spaced and using narrow margins of at least .75 inches.
- Recycle all paper, bottles, and cans; compost food & materials from the cafeteria.
- Adjust the power settings on your personal computer so the monitor and CPU will sleep after 20 minutes of inactivity and unplug all personal electronic devices when not in use.”

WHAT ARE THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THIS COURSE?

Materials in the Start Here Module: You are required to review all materials in the Start Here module, including this syllabus, course schedule, the Procedures and Guidelines of the Social Science Division, and all other documents in the module. Enrollment in the course constitutes an agreement to abide by the policies set forth in these items. By the end of the first online week of the course, you should submit the Course Agreement Form to your professor to indicate you understand how the course works and how your performance will be assessed.

Reading: It is absolutely essential that you read the textbook and assigned articles. You are responsible for your own learning and should take a vested interest in doing the best you can. Yes, you need to buy the textbook! Questions? Please ask.

Viewing PowerPoints: Additional course information is available in a series of lectures that you can view on-line or print as you wish. These lectures are very similar to those provided on campus, but they are not narrated so that you can go through them at your own pace. The publisher has provided PowerPoints for each chapter that complement the textbook. These files are posted too.

Viewing Media: For each week of the course, media links are posted that complement course materials. This visual/oral information enhances course content.

Discussions: This course will involve discussions with your classmates. For each discussion, you have questions to consider, posts to view, and two replies to contribute. Your commentary, reading others' posts, and replies are critical for classroom participation and for excelling on quizzes. You should read at least 15 commentaries for any discussion before posting replies to others.

Quizzes: A major part of your course grade will be derived from six quizzes. Questions come from assigned readings, PowerPoints, media viewings, handouts, discussions, activities, and any other instructional material presented in class. It is in your best interest to be prepared and to complete each quiz in the allotted time and by each deadline. No late quizzes are accepted for any reason.

Access the textbook website for study materials:

ARE THERE MAKE-UP QUIZZES AND DISCUSSIONS IF I MISS A DEADLINE?

If you are requesting a make-up quiz or discussion, because you know in advance that you will not be able to complete an assessment on time for a legitimate reason, you will need to send an e-mail ahead of time explaining why you need to miss the deadline, and you will be required to provide appropriate legitimate documentation to explain your absence (examples: surgery, extended court appearance, jury duty).

Vacation, work, attendance at social activities, weddings, minor health issues, sleeping in, picking up someone from the airport, etc. are not valid excuses for missing deadlines for quizzes and/or discussions and you will not be able to make up assessments for these reasons.

Consideration for make-ups is provided ONLY if you have contacted me BEFORE the deadline AND you have provided legitimate documentation. It is in your best interest to make all deadlines since there is no guarantee that your circumstances warrant special consideration. Late work submitted without prior approval does not count for credit.

WHAT IF THERE IS A LAST MINUTE EMERGENCY WHEN A QUIZ or DISCUSSION IS DUE?

If you are extremely sick or unfortunately experience an accident on the day of a quiz, you must contact me as soon as possible. If you wait until after the quiz or discussion was due to explain your absence or ask to make-up work, I will be unable to accommodate your request, regardless of your excuse. Documentation will be required (see above).

Any other kind of emergency request will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis. It is always important to contact me as soon as possible. To request an accommodation, you will need to write a letter stating why you were unable to take the quiz or complete the discussion, evidence to support your claim, and an explanation of why you think I should agree to your request. As difficult as it may be if your family unfortunately experiences a death, it will be necessary to provide appropriate documentation.

A make-up quiz is composed of several essay questions and must be taken as soon as possible after the quiz was given in class. No notes, textbook, or other materials/resources are allowed as the make-up quiz is closed book. The professor may request that you take the quiz at a testing facility under monitored conditions.

HOW DO I WITHDRAW FROM CLASS IF NECESSARY?

The professor cannot withdraw you from class – you must initiate this process. You can withdraw from class for any reason at any point UP UNTIL Tuesday, July 28. After that date, it will not be possible to withdraw from class. Please be aware that non-attendance in a course does not constitute withdrawal and is reason for failing a course. Be sure to take note of the ramifications for withdrawing from a course. Please review the withdrawal procedures so that you know how this process works: http://www.bellevuecollege.edu/policies/2/2450P_Withdrawal_from_a_Course_\(Procedures\).asp.asp)

IS THERE OTHER INFORMATION I NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THIS COURSE?

Only basic course information is contained in this syllabus. There are other course materials that you are obligated to read. Please go over all documents in the 'Start Here' Module.
