While many exam and quiz questions in this course may be completed without a calculator, you are allowed to use a basic calculator to minimize computational errors. You are not allowed to use programmable calculators, PDAs, cell phones, or any other electronic devices that are capable of performing more that the basic math functions or have wireless capabilities.
Course Emphasis:		This course is accepted for transfer credit at 4-year colleges and universities in the State of Washington and many other states. It is an intensive course that moves quickly in order to be equivalent to the same course at a 4-year school. In order to be admitted to a School of Business and be successful, you must comprehend this material.
Course Description:		This introductory transfer-level accounting course is a continuation of Accounting 201. It is required for all business administration transfer students. This course focuses on issues and choices involved in asset valuation, income determination, and financial statement preparation. Topics covered include treatment of long-term assets, current and long-term liabilities, short- and long-term investments, and transactions affecting stockholder equity. Also covers preparation of cash flow statements, as well as calculation and interpretation of financial performance ratios and comparative and common-size financial statements.

Disability Support	If you need course adaptations or special accommodations because of a disability,
Services:	if you have emergency medical information, or if you have special accommodations that need to be shared with me in the event that the building needs to be evacuated, please contact me. If you use an alternative medium for communicating, please let me know as soon as possible so that appropriate accommodations can be made. The Center for Disability Services is located in B 132 and may be contacted at (425) 464-2498. Your disability must be documented and authorized by the Disability Resourse Center before I can grant your request for special accommodations.

Withdrawals and Audit Status: Check the timeline in your class schedule for the rules on withdrawals and requests for Audit status. If you decide to drop the class, it's okay. Students who do not officially withdraw will have their grade calculated on the number of points earned divided by the total possible points assigned for the entire quarter. Please act responsibly and officially withdraw from any classes you choose not to complete. Unless you formally drop by the deadline, which is usually around the 7th week of the quarter, but always check the schedule to be sure, you will receive an F grade with 0.0 grade points. There may be alternatives, please see me if things reach this point.

College Policy: College policy says students cannot bring children to class. If you have a child care problem, please contact me, and we will try to arrange for someone to take notes for you.

Learning Objectives: Learners will gain knowledge and understanding of how financial information is recorded, summarized and communicated helping them to become informed users of financial information.

Learners will become familiar with accounting and business terminology to "talk the talk" of business, and understand how to use analysis techniques to give meaning to numbers.

Learners will learn to apply critical thinking criteria to financial cases and unarranged problems to come up with well-reasoned conclusions.

These objectives will be measured by the learner's ability to complete homework assignments and pass the course examinations.

Learning OutcomesDescribe the impact of basic investing and financing transactions on a business's financial position

Employ double-entry bookkeeping to record and report on basic business investing and financing transactions in an accounting system

Construct a report of a business's cash flows

Critically analyze a business's financial position, cash flows, and operational results

Employ time value of money theory in the analysis of long-term financial transactions

Demonstrate business communications skills through a variety of assessments such as team assignments, oral presentations, and written documents

Class Procedures: Learners will be expected to read the chapters and do the assigned homework. Key concepts will be presented in class and then assigned applications will be done in and out of class. Selected problems will be done using computers. Final grades may be based on a class curve. There will be 7 chapter quizzes. We will cover chapters 8 through 13 and Appendix E in the textbook this quarter. Accounting 202: Principles of Accounting II (Course Syllabus Continued) Page 3

Grading:	Term Tests (3)	300 points	*Homework will be collected following
	Problems & Outlines	80 points	the assignment schedule.
	Group Projects	40 points
	Chapter Quizzes (7)	70
	Total	490 points

80% of homework must be turned in on time in order for a student to qualify for a grade of B or higher. Selected problems will be reviewed for credit. Homework must be completed on a timely basis to qualify for a B or higher grade.

Make Up Quizzes, and Extra Credit will not be given. Students who do not take quizzes by the scheduled deadline are subject to a failing grade for that quiz. If you are too ill to take a quiz by the scheduled deadline, contact me. Late homework is unacceptable.

I hear and I forget; I see and I remember; I do and I understand.

Remember to keep a balance in your life—you need time to study, time to exercise, eat a healthy diet and schedule some time to have some fun. If you work, you have to be an excellent time manager; too often students take on more than they can handle and end up getting sick, frustrated and not doing anything very well. Set realistic goals—it is worth it in the long run. It is unrealistic to expect to work 40 or more hours a week and take 3 or more 200-level classes and do well in school and have a balanced life. It might take a little longer to achieve your goals, but it will be worth it.
