

ANTH 108: Food, Drink and Culture Spring 2014

Monday/Wednesday 10:30am-12:20pm Room D101

Instructor: Dr. Jaime Holthuysen (Dr. J)
E-mail: j.holthuysen@bellevuecollege.edu
Office location: D200D (second floor in the tower next to the water fountain)
Office Hours: by appointment (please email to set up a meeting time)

WELCOME TO ANTH 108: FOOD, DRINK AND CULTURE

Anthropologists are scientists who study both biological and cultural characteristics of human beings, both modern and ancient. We travel far and wide and generations back in time in order to understand where we came from, where we are now, and where we are going. As a comparative science, anthropologists also study the traditions and customs of other cultures as well as our own society. This course focuses on how what we consume (food and drink) affects us as human beings in the past and present. We will examine topics such as the archaeology of food, food and nutrition, the ideology of food and global challenges of food systems.

Course Description and Objectives

Anthropology 108 is a 5-credit course that introduces you to the discipline of anthropology and how this relates to food, drink and culture. You will be exposed to the basic underlying principles, theories, and methods of anthropology through lectures, textbook readings, articles, discussions, and visual materials. We will look at a number of questions related to food and culture throughout the quarter: where does our food come from and what are impacts of this on a global level? We will examine how aspects of human history and evolution such as domestication of plants and animals affected and continue to affect our diet. Other aspects of inquiry will include: why we eat what we eat and what does this have to do with class, gender and ethnicity? Why is food so important to culture? By the end of the quarter you will have some new insights in food, culture and anthropology.

Learning Outcomes for ANTH 108

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Explain the role that nutritional anthropology plays in understanding human consumption of food and drink.
- Assess the human diet from a biological evolutionary perspective, especially the influences that our prime origins have on our overall nutritional needs.
- Appreciate the complexity and origins of world cuisines and beverages.
- Connect various aspects of culture to the choice and consumption of food and drink.
- Identify the symbolic aspects of food and drink in various cultures and how these items convey values and norms.
- Enumerate major global food challenges the world faces today.
- Analyze one's own diet through the lens of nutritional anthropology.

General Education Ratings for ANTH 108

This course fulfills the General Education requirement of "Connections".

Books and Materials Required

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

The Cultural Feast: An Introduction to Food and Society: An Introduction to Food and Society, Carol A. Bryant, Kathleen M. DeWalt, Anita Courtney, and Jeffery Schwartz, Thomson Wadsworth, 2003.

- Additional Articles may be assigned throughout the quarter, they will posted to CANVAS

Course Requirements: This is an intensive course. Be prepared to do all readings and meet deadlines!

The Syllabus: You are required to review this entire syllabus and the Procedures and Guidelines of the Social Science Division. Enrollment in the course constitutes an agreement to abide by the policies set forth in these items. You are required to complete the Course Agreement/Syllabus Quiz as soon as possible.

Attendance: Attendance is required for success in the class. Attendance will be taken in this class. You must be present for the entire class to receive credit. Regular attendance throughout the quarter is expected for full points. If you are absent for any class, it is your responsibility to communicate with your instructor and to obtain class material for that day. There are often in class activities that cannot be made up, therefore you need to be there.

Active Participation: Active Participation will be expected of each of you. You should read all material for each class ahead of time in preparation for constructive participation. It is not enough that you simply show up to class. Participation does not just mean speaking, it means listening to others views and being respectful. Participation figures importantly in borderline final grades. I strongly feel that students should take responsibility for their own learning.

In Class Activities and Discussions: To enhance your learning, the class will participate in discussions. These will vary in format; some will require you to read a designated article (available on MyBC) or complete an assignment before class and others will require your response to questions about an in-class film, while others may simply be an in class activity. You are expected to provide thoughtful, respectful comments that are based on your educated opinion from course materials. There are no make-ups for these aspects of class. You MUST be present to do in class activities, therefore you CANNOT make them up! They may take place at the start, middle or end of class so you must attend the entire class to get full credit. In class activities work with material we are covering to help enhance understanding. They are graded for effort, understanding of material and evidence of critical thinking.

Online Discussions and Assignments: As this is a hybrid class, two online discussions and two online assignments will be required during the quarter. These are for you to summarize your individual thoughts and ideas on a topic and to help you further process your understanding of the material. It is also a chance for you to learn about other people's perspectives and respond respectfully. These discussions and assignments are graded for effort, understanding of material, evidence of critical thinking, and appropriate, respectful responses. The exact instructions will be given to you in class.

Presentations: You will be required to give an Powerpoint presentation on an issue related to food, drink and culture. You will form groups of 4-5 people and work together in a cooperative manner to present information to the class. This will be a presentation on a significant issue that has relevance to both anthropology and a wider non-academic audience. You will required to come up with 3 drafts (proposal, draft and final), execute your presentation and complete a team peer evaluation and reflection. All materials are submitted ONLINE. Please read the instructions posted on CANVAS very carefully. Group members will receive the same grade for the presentation and drafts, however the team evaluation and reflection will contribute to the individual score portion of the overall presentation grade.

Three Tests: A major part of your course grade will be derived from three closed book tests. Each test has 50 questions. Please show up prepared and on time. You must bring a pencil and a scantron. Questions are derived from class lectures, discussions, films, assigned readings, exercises, handouts and any other instructional material presented in class. Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated (see below). Test conduct will comply with the College policy for academic honesty.

Grading

Participation (includes Attendance and In Class Activities) (10%)

Presentation (includes 3 Drafts, Oral Presentation, Reflection and Peer Evaluation) (40%)

Online Discussion and Assignments (15%)

Tests (3) (35%)

Grading scale

Final grades will be calculated based on the following grading scale:

93-100%	A
90-92%	A-
86-89%	B+
81-85%	B
76-80%	B-
72-75%	C+
67-71%	C
63-66%	C-
57-62%	D+
50-56%	D
below 50%	F

Details of the Bellevue College grading policy can be found at:

http://bellevuecollege.edu/policies/3/3000_grading.asp

A Note About Course Content

Since anthropologists examine just about every aspect of the social world, we talk about provocative material. Please be advised that we will likely explore controversial topics, they will always be framed within an academic context. Please be respectful in your comments and questions but also keep an open mind. When we find ourselves in a space outside of our comfort zone, it provides a great example of our own cultural constructs and is a powerful opportunity for learning. If you have any questions or concerns about content or climate, come and speak with me in private or send me an email.

Non-scheduled class cancelations:

The possibility is always there that class will be cancelled unexpectedly. In the case that class is cancelled, I will post information on MyBC. This will include lecture material, assignments and handouts. It is your responsibility to check this in a timely manner and before the next class session

Bellevue College E-mail and access to MyBC

- This is a hybrid course. You will need access to MYBC and your BC email. Your student network account can be used to access your student e-mail, log in to computers in labs and classrooms, connect to the BC wireless network and log in to MyBC. To create your account, go to: <https://bellevuecollege.edu/sam>
- Class materials, and important updates will be posted on MyBC.

IMPORTANT CLASS POLICIES

Make-up tests (including the final) are only offered due to extenuating circumstances at the discretion of the instructor and must be arranged at least one week before the originally scheduled test date. In the case of a conflicting final exam schedule, you must notify your instructor at least 2 weeks prior to the exam.

If you are requesting a make-up test because you know in advance that you will have to be absent, you must give a legitimate reason. You will need to e-mail ahead of time explaining why you need to miss the assessment, and you will be required to provide appropriate documentation to explain your absence. Vacation, attendance at social activities, sleeping in, work, picking up someone from the airport, forgetting etc. are not valid excuses for missing exams and you will not be able to make up exams for these reasons. Consideration for make-up exams is provided ONLY if you have contacted me BEFORE your absence and IF you have provided appropriate documentation. If you are ill on the day of a test you must notify your instructor immediately and meet with instructor upon your return to discuss the possibility of a make-up.

Late work: DON'T HAND IN WORK LATE. It is unfair to other students who hand in work on time. However, I know that life can present unexpected challenges, and I am willing to take these into account in accepting late work. If you feel that you have an exceptionally valid reason for needing to submit work late, you may write an email requesting that I make an exception. You should always do this as soon as possible, normally BEFORE the due date. In your email you should state why your assignment is/will be late, and provide evidence you can to support your claim. I will consider these requests on a case by case basis. Vacations are not a valid excuse. If you will be out of town on due dates, you should complete the work before you leave. Keep in mind many activities are group-related so please do not let your group down.

Classroom Learning Atmosphere: General Class Conduct and Discussions

It is important to make sure that the classroom environment is as conducive to scholarship as possible, and also a safe environment for all students. You are encouraged to participate in discussions of the theories and concepts that will be presented to the class, as long as they pertain to class material. Class discussions and group work, while enriching, can also be challenging. This is a college level class, I expect a mature level of behavior and mutual respect. You may find that your fellow students hold beliefs and opinions that conflict with your own. This is an opportunity to exercise your listening skills, perfect your critical reasoning skills, and learn to examine claims based on supporting evidence. It is imperative that this learning environment be safe and open for all students regardless of age, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, religion, gender, disability, or perspective. Students who do not adhere to this code of conduct will be asked to leave the class. This behavior will be reported to the Dean of Student Services. Discussion guidelines:

1. We are NOT here to persuade others to our point of view; rather to examine the merits of each position, based on evidence.
2. We can respect the person even if we don't share his/her opinions.

3. We will give each participant his/her time to express their views without interruption, argumentation, or disrespectful gestures, laughter, or facial expressions, etc.
4. We will question the evidence or the claim; not the person.
5. We will remain open to corrective feedback as to our views and/or the impact of our communication style.
6. We will remain aware of the time and seek to not dominate the discussion. (No more than two comments/questions before yielding the time to others.)
7. We will avoid phrases such as: "People like that..." "That's a stupid question....idea....etc." "They always..."
8. No one should be understood to be 'representing' the entire racial/ethnic, gender, class, etc. group to which he or she belongs. You speak only for yourself.

Please raise your hand if you would like to speak, and I will recognize you so as to allow everyone in the room to have a chance to speak. Comments made while others are speaking including the instructor as disrespectful and a distraction. They will not be tolerated. Please review BC's policy in the Student Handbook as well as the policies for this class. All infractions of policies will be reported to the Dean of Student Services, with the recommendation that the Dean take further action.

Classroom Learning Atmosphere: Attendance and Punctuality

This class is based on the assumption that you will be attending regularly, participate fully, and support the learning environment for your fellow students. Some form of attendance will be taken every class (handing in a response to a question, an in class activity etc.). If you are absent, you are responsible for obtaining lecture notes from fellow students and to gain information regarding announcements or changes to the schedule that you may have missed. Please be on time for class. Coming in late distracts your peers.

Classroom Learning Atmosphere: Technology in the Classroom

Electronic devices (cell phones, laptops, etc.) are a convenience, not a right. They create a distraction for your fellow students. Cell phones are to be turned OFF while in a classroom. Checking your phone during class will result in points taken off from your participation grade. If you have a need to use a laptop computer for note-taking, please see me immediately. Although you may think you are being discreet, instructors know when you are texting, on Facebook or doing work for other classes.

Classroom Learning Atmosphere: Cheating and Plagiarism

Cheating or plagiarism is legitimate grounds for failing the course and dismissal from class.

Tests:

Cheating behavior on tests includes, but is not limited to, looking at someone else's test, asking another student for answers, assisting another student with cheating, passing notes, writing on the desk, talking during the testing period or otherwise being disruptive, using sources for information, etc.

Written Work:

Preventing Plagiarism: Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty occurring when students use information or material from outside sources and do not properly cite those sources. This is grounds for disciplinary action. It is your responsibility to understand plagiarism and its consequences. Plagiarism occurs if:

- a. You do not cite quotations and/or attribute borrowed ideas.
- b. You fail to enclose borrowed language in quotation marks.
- c. You do not write summaries and paraphrases in his/her own words and/or doesn't document his/her source.
- d. You turn in work created by another person.
- e. You submit or use your own prior work for a current or past course, or work from one current course in another course without express permission from your instructors. This may also be considered academic dishonesty.
- f. Consequences: If it is determined that you have plagiarized or engaged in other forms of academic dishonesty, you will likely fail the assignment and possibly the course, despite points earned through other work. Acts of academic dishonesty are reviewed for disciplinary action.

For all of your written work: Submit proofread work only. If you need help with your writing, please make use of the following student support services at the Academic Success/Tutoring Center or Writing Lab.

Classroom Learning Atmosphere: Quiz-Taking and Testing Expectations

Once the testing period has begun, you may not converse with your fellow students. Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated, per the regulations of this syllabus and the Social Science Division. All tests are closed book and closed notes. You may not use any sources when taking a test, including pocket dictionaries or electronic devices.

Student Code

"Cheating, stealing and plagiarizing (using the ideas or words of another as one's own without crediting the source) and inappropriate/disruptive classroom behavior are violations of the Student Code of Conduct at Bellevue College. Examples of unacceptable behavior include, but are not limited to: talking out of turn, arriving late or leaving early without a valid reason, allowing cell phones/pagers to ring, and inappropriate behavior toward the professor or classmates. The professor can refer any violation of the Student Code of Conduct to the Vice President of Student Services for possible probation or suspension from Bellevue College. Specific student rights, responsibilities and appeal procedures are listed in the Student Code of Conduct, available in the office of the Vice President of Student Services."

The Student Code, Policy 2050, in its entirety is located at: http://bellevuecollege.edu/policies/2/2050_Student_Code.asp

HOW CAN YOU SUCCEED IN THIS CLASS?

1. ATTEND CLASS: Attending class helps you gain a better education and better grades.
2. TAKE NOTES: Notes will highlight what the instructor has emphasized. Take notes that you can understand and use. Review your notes right after class and before the next class meeting to reinforce learning.
3. READ: all assigned chapters in the textbook (keep up with the reading). Material that is not covered in class, but is found in the reading assignments, is fair game for testing. You are responsible for your own reading and comprehension of material.
4. PARTICIPATE: Be prepared for every class by reading the assignments ahead of time. This preparation will help you to more fully comprehend material presented in class and feel more confident participating in class discussions. Appropriate participation is both speaking and listening respectfully.
5. STUDY FOR TESTS. Prepare for exams by reading the text ahead of time and reviewing class notes.
6. APPROPRIATE BEHAVIOR: Obtain a copy of the BC Student Handbook to familiarize yourself with policies and behaviors that are appropriate to the college environment. Lewd, abusive, disruptive, or harassing behavior will not be tolerated. Turn off all electronic devices before entering the classroom. Arrive to class on time.
7. ABSENCES: If you know you will be absent for in-class assignments or quizzes, email me in advance.
8. COMPREHENSION: If you are not understanding course material, come and see me right away. I want you to do well in this course, but I cannot help you if I don't know you need help or want help. Student success is important to me, but you must be serious and an active participant in your own learning.
9. ACCOMMODATION: "If you need course adaptations or special accommodations because of a disability, or if you have medical information that needs to be shared with me in the event that the building needs to be evacuated, please contact me during the first week of the quarter. If you require accommodations due to a diagnosed disability, please contact the Disability Resource Center. Phone: 425-564-2498 (Voice) TTY: 425-564-4110." I will be glad to help you.

Disability Resource Center (DRC)

The Disability Resource Center serves students with a wide array of learning challenges and disabilities. If you are a student who has a disability or learning challenge for which you have documentation or have seen someone for treatment and if you feel you may need accommodations in order to be successful in college, please contact us as soon as possible. If you are a student with a documented autism spectrum disorder, there is a program of support available to you. If you are a person who requires assistance in case of an emergency situation, such as a fire, earthquake, etc, please meet with your individual instructors to develop a safety plan within the first week of the quarter. The DRC office is located in B 132 or you can call our reception desk at 425.564.2498. Deaf students can reach us by video phone at 425-440-2025 or by TTY at 425-564-4110. Please visit our website for application information into our program and other helpful links at www.bellevuecollege.edu/drc

Public Safety

The Bellevue College (BC) Public Safety Department's well trained and courteous non-commissioned staff provides personal safety, security, crime prevention, preliminary investigations, and other services to the campus community, 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Their phone number is 425.564.2400. The Public Safety website is your one-stop resource for campus emergency preparedness information, campus closure announcements and critical information in the event of an emergency. Public Safety is located in K100 and on the web at: <http://bellevuecollege.edu/publicsafety/>

PROCEDURES AND GUIDELINES OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCE DIVISION 2014

- http://bellevuecollege.edu/socsci/student_policies.asp
- Cheating, Stealing and Plagiarizing^[1]
- Cheating, stealing and plagiarizing (using the ideas or words of another as one's own without crediting the source) and inappropriate/disruptive classroom behavior are violations of the Student Code of Conduct at Bellevue College. Examples of unacceptable behavior include, but are not limited to: talking out of turn, arriving late or leaving early without a valid reason, allowing cell phones/pagers to ring, and inappropriate behavior toward the instructor or classmates. The instructor can refer any violation of the Student Code of Conduct to the Dean of Student Services for possible probation or suspension from Bellevue College. Specific student rights, responsibilities and appeal procedures are listed in the Student Code of Conduct, available in the office of the Dean of Student Services.
- Incomplete
- If a student fails to complete all the required work for a course, an instructor may assign the grade of Incomplete ("I"). The student must complete the coursework by the end of the next quarter, or receive the assigned letter grade (usually an "F").
- F Grade
- Students who fail a course will receive a letter grade of "F."
- Final Examination Schedule
- The Social Science Division will adhere to the final examination schedule as stated in the BC Schedule. Final examinations will be held at the end of each quarter at fixed times. Instructors will not give examinations in advance of the regular schedule. A student who is absent from any examination held at any time during the quarter may forfeit the right to make up the examination. If, for illness or some other circumstance beyond the student's control, the student is unable to be present at any scheduled examination and has contacted the instructor on a timely basis, the student may be permitted to take such examination at a time designated by the instructor.
- Withdrawal From Class
- College policy states that students must formally withdraw from a class by the end of the seventh week of the quarter (Registration Office, B125). If a student has not withdrawn by that date, an appropriate letter grade will be assigned for the course.
- Hardship Withdrawal
- Instructors may assign the grade of "HW" (hardship withdrawal) at their discretion in the event that a student cannot complete the coursework due to extreme and exceptional circumstances. Students may also contact the Enrollment Services office BEFORE grades are assigned in cases of hardship.
- Students Who Require Disability Accommodations:
- Students with disabilities who have accommodation needs are encouraged to meet with the Disability Resource Center

(DRC) office located in D125 inside the library (telephone 425.564.2498 or TTY 425.564.4110), to establish their eligibility for accommodation. The DRC office will provide each eligible student with an accommodation letter. Students who require accommodation in class should review the DRC accommodation letter with each instructor during the first week of the quarter.

- Students with mobility challenges who may need assistance in case of an emergency situation or evacuation should register with Disability Resource Center, and review those needs with the instructor as well.
- Distribution of Grades
- Grades will not be posted in the Social Science Division or in faculty offices, and secretaries will not give out grades. Students should access their grades through the BC Web site.
- Return of Papers and Tests
- Paper and/or Scantron score sheet returns will be arranged in the following ways ONLY: by mail, if student supplies the instructor with stamped, self-addressed envelope (with appropriate postage); or by the instructor designating a time and place whereby the student may retrieve his/her papers. Unclaimed papers and/or Scantron score sheets must be kept by the instructor for a minimum of sixty (60) instructional days following the end of the quarter.
- [1] If you are accused of cheating, stealing exams and/or plagiarism, there is a Bellevue College Student Discipline and Appeals Procedure (the right to due process) which you may pursue. Contact the office of Division Chair (D110), the Dean of Student Services (B231A) or the Associated Student Body (C212) for information regarding the appeals process.