Description:

Examines the emergence of modern American society. Students look into problems of industrialization and urbanization, reform movements such as Populism, Progressivism, and the New Deal, and the multicultural society in an age of global interdependence. May be used as social science or humanities credit, not both, at BC. This course also examines the history of the United States from just before the end of Nineteenth Century (Spanish-Am. War of 1898) to the present. The course focuses on key figures, events and eras, and explores important themes and issues relevant to the nation's historical development, including the rise of industrialization and labor, imperialism and overseas trade expansion, WWI, the "Roaring 20s", Depression and New Deal, WWII, Cold War and Post-war prosperity, 1960s and Vietnam, de-industrialization, Reagan era, and the end of Cold War to present issues. In the process students will develop historical thinking skills and draw conclusions from contradictory primary sources and historical interpretations. The diverse history of the nation will be emphasized by examining individual cultures, their interactions, and the challenges faced by multicultural America.

Course Content, Topics and Themes:

This course will familiarize you with the main events, as well as social and political forces, that spurred the United States to emerge from a generation of revolt, war, and turmoil after 1800 to achieve great economic and territorial power, and become the world's largest economy and one of its great powers by 1900, and continue its 'rise', despite economic setbacks, through the 20th c.

But we will not only study these events and the forces that spawned them, for American history is too often taught in a vacuum. To fully understand how America fits into the world it is necessary to constantly keep in mind the world context in which its developments occurred. This includes the idea of "American exceptionalism" or of a modern "City on a Hill". In short, that America was a better civilization than the Europe we had once rebelled against, and thus a better example and "beacon of light for the world." Whether the promise of this vision (individual economic freedom, equality of justice and opportunity, representative government, etc.) has been realized over the last century, or is mostly rhetoric, will also be a constant topic of discussion in the course, just as they have always been huge issues among its citizens. But the 20th c. saw the US emerge first as one of several world powers, and after WWII as the world power among capitalist democracies and seek to project its values, as well as economic interests, beyond its borders.

All this occurred while many also tried to perfect and extend the American dream – to women, minorities, and poor -- despite powerful forces seeking to prevent such from happening. The US became more composed of diverse populations resulting from immigration – from all corners of Europe, but esp. Eastern and Southern, from migration of Blacks out of the South to all parts of the nation, from Mexicans and other Latinos, and finally Asians after WWII. This fact of American diversity in race and ethnicity, as well as gender and income, will also garner significant attention toward understanding the unique qualities and evolution of American civilization.

Course Outcomes:

After completing this class, students should be able to:

- Through written essays and verbal class discussion, successful students will analyze relevant causes and effects in addressing such questions as how and why the United States emerged as a great power just before 1900; what inspirations infused Progressivism; what forces shape the modern presidency; why the United States entered World War I; reasons for cultural change in the 1920s; what the Great Depression swept this country; how effective Roosevelt's policies were; causes of U.S. intervention; why cultural confrontations took place in the 1960s and 1970s; why the economy was in trouble in the 1970s and why it recovered; why multiculturalism became a powerful force; and how the Cold War concluded.
- Successful students will present accurate timelines in written narrative forms (in written and oral analysis), such as exams or extended essays (including oral discussion, tests, and papers). They will be able to compare the timing of such events and developments as the growth of Progressivism, the intervention in World War I; the "first" and "second" New Deals, basic facts of World War II; the line of Presidents since that war; the 1960s protests especially the Civil Rights movement; major economic problems; cultural and political since the 1960s; and the presence of individuals who helped shape events.
- Successful students will understand and describe the impact on political developments and social relations of major cultural trends and patterns, such as evangelical Protestantism; modernism; the Afro-American cultural renaissance of the 1920s; the television; the 1960s movements; multiculturalism; and immigration.
- Successful students will evaluate evidence and construct cogent, logical arguments in response to questions of both interpretation and content on such items as the Panama Canal, trust-busting, the "New Woman," the Pinchot-Ballinger affair, the "New Freedom," women's suffrage, the Lusitania, "Over There," the Red Scare, the "return to normalcy," the Scopes trial, Babe Ruth, the Crash, the Hundred Days, Social Security, Court-packing, the China incident, Munich Pearl Harbor, D-Day, the Fair Deal, Korea, the Sputnik scare, the New Frontier, Freedom Rides, the War on Poverty, escalation, Spiro Agnew, the Yom Kippur War, Watergate, WIN buttons, abortion, the Olympic boycott, the Reagan tax cut Reagan-Gorbachev summits, and the Gulf War, thereby demonstrating the use of evidences in historical study. They will display this ability on written exams, assigned essays, and in class discussions.
- Successful students will investigate primary source materials including memoirs policy statements, speeches, literary excerpts, and narrative accounts of the conditions of life in 20th-century America, learning to assess them in historical context and bringing analysis of the sources to bear in such issues as those listed above.
- Successful students will recognize historiographical debates and problems such as the reasons for the rise of the United States to world power, reasons for U.S. entry into World War II and the use of the atomic bomb in that war; origins of the Cold War, and questions about the women's movement.

Additional Learning Objectives:

1. To relate and compare American developments to global ones.
2. To see and understand opposing views of controversial issues of our society.
3. To perceive how different ethnic, racial, regional, and socioeconomic groups can and do have conflicting views of the same issue.
4. To identify the broad themes and forces at work in American society in the 20th century.
5. To hone the skills of reading comprehension, clear writing, and useful note taking.
6. To advance critical thinking (including of the text, instructor, and "American values")
7. To develop basic library and research skills.

Philosophy- Learning is a multifaceted process. In addition to the necessity of reading and making a solid effort to comprehend the reading, it also involves critical thinking, student/student and student/instructor dialogue and discussion, and collaborative learning. I expect us all to make an effort in all these areas by doing the reading and by engaging in discussion and group activities. I also will be available during office hours to facilitate your learning and projects, but the responsibility is yours. Finally, toleration must be observed. Viewpoints may be criticized, but criticizing individuals FOR their views (or anything else) will not. Open debate must not lead to personal attacks.

- ❖ Academic Honesty: The College regards acts of academic dishonesty, including such activities as plagiarism, cheating and/or violations of integrity in information technology, as very serious offenses. In the event that cheating, plagiarism or other forms of academic dishonesty are discovered, each incident will be handled as deemed appropriate. Care will be taken that students' rights are not violated and that disciplinary procedures are instituted only in cases where documentation or other evidence of the offense(s) exists. A description of all such incidents shall be forwarded to the Vice President for Student Success, where a file of such occurrences will be maintained. The vice president may institute action against a student according to the college's disciplinary policies and procedures as described in the Student Handbook.

Plagiarism – Special Note: For all assignments, NO PLAGIARISM (direct copying, or close paraphrasing from any published material without mention of the source) will be tolerated, and no credit will be given for any assignment in which I find it. If discovered, plagiarism will result in a zero score for that assignment, and raise the level of scrutiny for future assignments. A second example will result in a minimum 1.0 reduction (ex., 2.0 to a 1.0) in final grade. If egregious second offense may result in failure of the entire course. I expect you to look on-line or elsewhere in order to fully understand just what plagiarism is. THIS IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY. Below are some resources to do this.

For a description of plagiarism see the statement by the American Historical Association
<<http://www.historians.org/Perspectives/issues/2002/0203/0203aha4.cfm>>.

You need to be aware that plagiarism is a very serious academic offense. Although some students do this deliberately, many commit plagiarism out of a lack of understanding. Diana Hacker, in her book A Pocket Style Manual, describes plagiarism as the “unattributed use of a source of information that is not considered common knowledge. Three acts are considered plagiarism: (1) failing to cite quotations and borrowed ideas, (2) failing to enclose borrowed language in quotation marks, and (3) failing to put summaries and paraphrases in your own words.” (Diana Hacker, pp 157-158, A Pocket Style Manual)

Additionally, access the site “The Historian’s Toolbox” (the address follows) for some useful examples regarding plagiarism, quotes, and paraphrasing. To get the most out of these tutorials, select all the boxes to review the feedback. Start with this page “What is Plagiarism”:

ONLINE PROCEDURES AND GUIDELINES
OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCE DIVISION
Revised Spring 2009

Bellevue Community College's Affirmation of Inclusion

Bellevue Community College is committed to maintaining an environment in which every member of the campus community feels welcome to participate in the life of the college, free from harassment and discrimination. We value our different backgrounds at BCC, and students, faculty, staff members, and administrators are to treat one another with dignity and respect.

The college's "Affirmation of Inclusion" is in line with the principle of free speech in a free society: we have the right to express unpopular ideas as long as we don't show disrespect for reasonable people who might believe otherwise. In an online course, you will be expressing ideas through the medium of the course site rather than face to face in the classroom. In that case, these expectations refer to the courtesy with which you communicate with one another through e-mails and e-discussions. Part of this respect involves professional behavior towards the instructor, colleagues, and the class itself.

Cheating, Stealing, and Plagiarizing* and Inappropriate Behavior

Cheating, stealing and plagiarizing (using the ideas or words of another as one's own without crediting the source) and inappropriate/disruptive behavior are violations of the Student Code of Conduct at Bellevue Community College. Examples of unacceptable behavior include, but are not limited to: plagiarizing material from the Internet and posting rude or personal attacks in discussions. When you are in doubt about any behavior, please consult your instructor. In addition, you may wish to review the general applicable rules of cyberspace, such as in the Core Rules of Netiquette. The instructor reserves the right to remove posted messages, and downgrade assessments as a result of these types of behaviors. The instructor can refer any violation of the Student Code of Conduct to the Vice President of Student Services for possible probation or suspension from Bellevue Community College. Specific student rights, responsibilities and appeal procedures are listed in the Student Code of Conduct, available in the office of the Vice President of Student Services, link to Student Code.

Incomplete

If a student fails to complete all the required work for a course, an instructor may assign the grade of Incomplete ("I"). It is the student's responsibility for maintaining contact and adhering to the agreed-upon actions. Vista class sites, and material, may not be directly accessible after the end of the quarter so it is important to make arrangements before the quarter ends. The student must complete the coursework by the end of the next quarter, or receive the assigned letter grade (usually an "F"). There is a standard form that instructors have access to in their instructor's grade briefcase.

F Grade

Students who fail a course will receive a letter grade of "F."

Final Examination Schedule

Final examinations may involve proctored on-campus arranged exams or may be administrated completely online at the discretion of the instructor and in keeping with the stated policies provided in the course syllabus. Please refer to the syllabus at the start of the quarter for additional details and contact the instructor directly for any clarifications. A student who is not in compliance with the scheduled format may forfeit the right to make up the examination. If, for illness or some other circumstance beyond the student's control, the student is unable to be in compliance with any scheduled examination and has contacted the instructor on a timely basis, the student may be permitted to take such examination at a time designated by the instructor.

Withdrawal From Class

College policy states that students must formally withdraw from a class by the end of the seventh week of the quarter during the standard academic year (Registration Office, B125). If a student has not withdrawn by that date, an appropriate letter grade will be assigned for the course. Check Enrollment Calendar Deadlines, Refunds/Withdrawals, for additional details. As with most enrollment deadlines, it is the student's responsibility to be aware of these dates and act accordingly.

Hardship Withdrawal (HW)

From page 9 of the current course catalog, 2008-2009 online catalog, HW indicates a withdrawal request made because of extenuating circumstances after the official withdrawal period is over. The student must contact the instructor to request this withdrawal option, or the faculty member may initiate the contact. No points are calculated into the grade-point average. Students may also contact the Enrollment Services office BEFORE grades are assigned in cases of hardship.

Students Who Require Disability Accommodations:

Students with disabilities who have accommodation needs are encouraged to contact the Disability Resource Centre (DRC) link to DRC. The office is located in B132 (telephone 425.564.2498 or TTY 425.564.4110, email drc@bellevuecollege.edu). Students will need to establish their eligibility for accommodation. The DRC office will provide each eligible student with an accommodation letter or contact your online instructor directly by email. Students who require accommodation in a course should review the DRC accommodation letter with each instructor during the first week of the quarter.

Distribution of Grades

Students should access their grades through the BCC Web site. Any returned material should be accessed prior to the end of the quarter. After the end of the quarter, Vista class sites may not be accessible by students. Individual instructors may use non-Vista tools for recording and maintaining the students' progress. Questions about grades assigned should be initially directed to your instructor.

Submission and Returning of Papers, Assignments and Assessments:

Specific guidelines for taking exams and submitting assignments are published in the syllabus. Please contact instructor at the start of the quarter for any clarifications.

Technical Assistance

Vista-related or technical issues should be referred to Distance Education, link to Distance Education web resources. You may also email them at landerso@bellevuecollege.edu or call 425-564-2438 (1-877-641-2712). Vista tutorial help and basic instructions can be found at <http://bellevuecollege.edu/distance/studentguide/>

If you are accused of cheating, stealing exams and/or plagiarism, there is a Bellevue Community College Student Discipline and Appeals Procedure (the right to due process) which you may pursue. Contact the office of Division Chair (D110), the Vice President of Student Services (B231A) or the Associated Student Body (C212) for information regarding the appeals process.*

GRADING PARAMETERS:

Exams: 35% of total grade

There will be two blue-book style exams, a midterm and a final. Check the class Schedule for dates.

- Final not cumulative.
- All consist of combination of objective, identification and essay questions.
- Study sheet and list of essay questions given out approx. one week before.
- Some essay questions may be take home (yet to be determined)

Identification terms (“IDs”) will consist of individuals, places, programs, and events. Lists of terms will be given out at stages in the course. They will also be related to group and discussion activities at various points. For EXAMs you will describe terms in a full paragraphs and explain their historical significance, and including time, place, and key facets. You will usually want to connect a term to other material we are studying, such as larger themes or issues. Worth about 30%-40% of exams.

Essay questions will require longer answers (2-4 pages in many cases) that are well organized, clear, and supported by evidence. Worth about 40% of exams (these MAY be takehome essays)

There will also be several (no more than 10-12) objective questions on exams. Worth about 20% of exams.

Make-up exams or quizzes will not be given except under extraordinary circumstances. Students who must miss an exam because of illness or family emergency must leave me an email or phone message PRIOR to or immediately after the exam (or quiz).

Quizzes: 30% of total grade

There will be three quizzes based on readings and lectures. Same parameters on make-ups as with exams. Quizzes will be a combination of objective questions (T/F and matching mostly), usually between 10-15 total, a handful of map questions, as well as 1 or 2 IDs (see exams).

Synopsis Homework 10% of total grade

This is an assignments that requires finding and reading relevant materials from text (and perhaps beyond) and then writing brief synopsis and interpretation of what you have read.

- Synopsis questions will be handed out throughout quarter.
- You are only required to turn in one, but a 2nd MAY be done for extra credit (need to see me)
- Different groups will be assigned different sets of questions with different due dates.
- Questions will be based on textbook and document readings.
- For full credit all MUST be turned in by due date. Late papers will be accepted but with progressive late deductions, and only for one week.
- Each should be 1-2 pages (don't go over 2!) No single spacing or less than 11' font.
- Must be as grammatically correct and understandable as possible.
- MUST include internal citations, at least 3, of which 2 min. from the text.

Class Participation: 10% of total grade

There will be regular discussions based on assigned readings during weekly class time. Specific readings will be assigned in advance. Terms and questions will be the basis for many discussions. You are expected to come to class familiar with and ready to discuss them, and may involve graded writings to be submitted for group credit, and/or whiteboard work. To do well you obviously must attend the classes.

*You will come to meet with me in my office during first two weeks of quarter, in small groups (I will pass out a schedule sheet) to discuss course parameters. This is REQUIRED!

Paper/Presentation: 15% of total grade

You will work collaboratively in pairs (with a partner, likely from groups assigned early in quarter) to produce a paper and class presentation on a topic of your choosing – either a broad overview of 20th c. on some theme, or of a narrow research topic. Lists and explanations of possible topics will be passed out a few weeks into quarter. All will be due during last week of class (This is SEPARATE from final exam). There also will be periodic due dates for topics, drafts, and commenting on the drafts of others. See syllabus for due dates. Preliminary tasks are worth collectively 15% of the assignment grade. For those doing a narrow research topic you MAY opt to give an in depth presentation (c. 12-15 minutes) worth 65% of grade AND a detailed outline of what you researched worth 35%. For all others the paper is worth 70% of this grade, and you will give a short (c. 4-7 minutes) talk on what you wrote on, worth 30%

- Topics, possibilities, and more information will be discussed early in the quarter
- Will involve research in library and printed sources and a bibliography of 3+ sources.
- MUST have at least 6 internal citations from you three sources, of which text book and Wikipedia do NOT count.
- Grammar and spelling count, as do organization and clarity.
- You are REQUIRED to come visit me in my office to discuss this paper at least once

Extra Credit:

The only extra credit allowed is a short (2-3 minute) oral description to the class about a relevant article or book you have read, OR a second synopsis. See me first in either case. These may (no promises) raise your final grade one notch (3.5 to 3.6).
