POLITICAL SCIENCE 202—AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

Spring Quarter 2016

Hours and Location:

Monday and Wednesday from 12:30 p.m. - 2:40 p.m.

L 221

Office hours by appointment

Instructor:

Nicholas Price (Please call me Nick!)

J.D., Harvard Law School

B.A., University of Washington, Seattle

Member, Washington State Bar Association

The instructor is a lawyer licensed to practice in Washington State, but neither the course, nor lectures, nor anything else related to the course constitutes legal advice. This course only presents an overview of American government and does not provide adequate tools for you to appropriately analyze real-world legal situations. Lawyers spend their entire careers focusing on the material we'll survey during single course sessions. Individuals should therefore seek the advice of licensed and qualified legal counsel and enter into an attorney-client relationship when seeking legal advice.

Course Materials* (https://bc.instructure.com/courses/1004660/assignments/syllabus#_ftn1):

The primary texts for the course is Gateways to Democracy: The Essentials by John Geer, first edition (ISBN-13: 978-0495906193). Supplemental texts will be made available on our course website. To access the supplemental materials click on the "Modules" button and you will find them uploaded in the order in which they have been assigned. Please note that you are responsible for downloading (and reading and/or watching) all supplemental materials as they are assigned.

For those of you who do not have a printer at home you can print in the student computer lab in the N-Building or if you prefer you can just read the materials on-line. Please also note that all assigned materials should be completed before the class session for which they are scheduled, so that you can participate in discussions and other activities that I have planned.

Any material covered by an assigned reading/video may be included in examination questions, regardless of whether it is specifically discussed in lecture. If adjustments are made to the reading/viewing schedule, you will be informed via the announcement board on our class website. The assigned reading/viewing is the core of this class—if you don't keep up you are going to find it hard to succeed. Please review the modules section carefully and let me know if you have any questions or concerns so that we can address potential issues before they become problems.

Course Description:

This is an introductory course that is designed for students new to the study of American politics. By the end of the quarter, I hope you will have a basic understanding of the structure of American government and have an increased ability to critically reflect on American politics. Specific topics of study include: the Revolution, the Constitution, Congress, the Presidency, the Supreme Court, civil rights, civil disobedience, patriotism, the role of money in politics, informed and active citizenship, and much more.

Course Objectives:

- To develop a critical understanding of American government and politics.
- To become more informed and discriminating consumers of political information.
- To foster self-reflection about the rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

Course Policies:

This is a college-level course, which means you are responsible for your own learning. I will do my best to facilitate our interactions and to assess your learning fairly. I expect you to do your best to complete assignments in a timely and appropriate fashion and to attend class each day. If you do not understand something you need to take the initiative to find out the answer. I cannot read minds, so it is up to you to try to seek clarity when it is lacking.

Rules of Engagement for Class Discussions:

This course involves the discussion of controversial political issues. Remember that reasonable people often disagree. Your challenge and responsibility is to maintain civil discourse. We will achieve this by being respectful of each other and avoiding inflammatory, derogatory and insulting words, phrases and labels. Please use your common sense to avoid any other conduct that might distract or offend me or your classmates. Thank you!

A Note About Ideology:

I have no intention of trying to convert you to my belief system. The issues we will be exploring are often contentious and sometimes there will be no right or wrong answers. That said, there are good and bad arguments. Good arguments will be entertained (i.e. those that are logically sound and supported by the available evidence); bad arguments will be discouraged.

Keeping Up With the News:

Please keep up with current events related to American government and politics. Please find a few news sources that work for you (representing different mediums and viewpoints) and make a habit of reading, listening, and/or watching them throughout the quarter. If you have questions about the appropriateness of a particular news source for this class, please ask me sooner rather than later. I suggest that at least one of your sources be a national newspaper such as: the New York Times (www.nytimes.com), the Washington Post (www.washingtonpost.com), or the Wall Street Journal (www.wsj.com). I also encourage international sources such as the BBC (www.bbc.co.uk) and Al Jazeera <http://english.aljazeera.net>. If you speak another language I encourage you to follow the news in that language and bring that perspective to class.

E-Mail Etiquette:

Please only message me on Canvas—I set aside time specifically to respond to Canvas messages. Messaging me on Canvas will ensure the quickest possible response.

You should strive to use professional-grade, typo-free writing when drafting electronic messages. Your attention to detail reflects your professionalism; I don't take typos personally, I just want to prepare you for the real world. You should also employ the below conventions.

Please include in Canvas message subject lines: 1) an identification of both the class; and 2) the matter (example: "POLS 202—Week 3 Quiz; NOT "question"). Most professionals receive dozens—if not hundreds—of e-mails every day. The subject line provides an opportunity to summarize your request and allows the reader to appropriately triage your question.

Also, if you do not receive a reply from me within 48 hours (longer on weekends/holidays), it could mean that, for whatever reason, I did not receive your message. If I do not respond, please feel free to send me another message to ensure that I've received your message.

You are responsible for confirming receipt of any message. Consequences for any glitches resulting from not following these or any other instructions are your responsibility—you are training for a college-educated career and should act as if every responsibility is your own.

Grades will be awarded as follows:

All assignment due dates are posted under the "modules" section on Canvas. All assignment descriptions are posted under the "assignment" section on Canvas. Assignments will be unlocked during the few weeks before their due dates.

Assignments:

All due dates are posted in the "modules" section of the course. Assignment descriptions are posted under the "assignments" tab and are unlocked during the few weeks prior to the assignment due date. We'll also be discussing assignment details during class--it is therefore your responsibility to attend class and/or seek clarification from me about the assignments.

Reading responses--35% of your overall course grade

You'll submit a 1-page, single-spaced response to your choice of topics from the prior 2 weeks' reading for each response. You'll submit a total of 2 reading responses throughout the quarter. Your first reading response will be worth 15% of your overall course grade, and your second reading response will be worth 20% of your overall course grade; I weight the later assignment more heavily so you have a chance to 'warm up' to my expectations and the course. More details about the assignment will be unlocked on Canvas during the second week of class under the "assignments" section.

Political Action Memo--25% of your overall course grade

For this assignment, you'll draft a 4-6 page single-spaced memo that identifies a political issue that you'd like lawmakers to handle differently. After describing the background of the issue, you'll summarize the different mechanisms available for political action, describing the pros and cons of each approach. Finally, you'll choose a mechanism and take political action; examples might include writing a letter to a lawmaker, attending a protest, or even creating a grassroots organization. Specific details for the memo will be discussed during class and posted on Canvas.

Class participation quizzes--20% of your overall course grade

Each class, I'll conduct a brief quiz to test your understanding of the assigned class materials for that day; this is essentially a way to incentivize you to do each day's assigned reading. In-class participation quizzes cannot be made up; you must be in class to receive credit.

Final examination--20% of your overall course grade

We'll discuss details about the final exam before finals week.

Academic Integrity:

If you choose to cheat, steal, or plagiarize, then you will receive a zero for the assignment. You might also receive a failing grade for the course.

Cheating includes, but is not limited to, copying answers on exams, glancing at nearby exams, turning in assignments or papers that have been used in other classes, and giving or receiving help during an exam. Cheating includes, but is not limited to, purchasing or selling notes, assignments, or examination materials.

Stealing includes, but is not limited to, using the text, notes, exams, library books or other personal property of others without their permission.

Plagiarism is presenting the words, ideas, and/or work of others as your own. It includes, but is not limited to, using other's papers as one's own and including parts of published works without giving credit where credit is due.

Late Policy:

All assignments are due on the dates specified below unless you are notified otherwise. Late assignments receive zero points.

If you are experiencing difficulties comprehending or completing the material, are experiencing personal hardship, or otherwise need to make any other arrangements, please contact me as soon as possible. In order for me to grant an exception to the standard grading policies, you must e-mail me BEFORE the due date of the particular assignment with documentation of an excuse (e.g., a doctor's note, etc.).
