Economic Development of the U.S.

Texts:

History of the American Economy, 12e, Walton and Rockoff (WR)

A People's History of the United States: 1492 to the Present, Howard Zinn
(Zinn)

Instructor's Vision for the Course:

This course will explore the economic and social foundations of American capitalism. We will focus on the rise and the success of the American case, while at the same time highlighting its oddities. Topics covered will include but not be limited to: the colonial efforts, the American Revolution, tariff policy, the Civil War, economic instability, the labor movement, and the Great Depression. By making use of multiple perspectives this class will also provide a context for the critical appraisal of competing historical explanations. It is my hope that your understanding of the facts will improve and simultaneously you will begin to relate the events of the past to the economic problems of the present.

Course Outcomes:

After completing this class, students should be able to:

- Define and explain the relationships between the basic economic concepts that are used in theories of economic growth and transformation.
- Describe the structure and operation of a capitalist economic system, and identify the forces that led to its establishment in the United States.
- Identify the critical events, such as Civil War and Depression, in the historical life of the U.S., and analyze the causes and effects of those events from the perspective of the development of the economy.
- Explain the relationship between the role of government and the market system, tracing the development of that relationship throughout the history of the U.S. economy.
- Identify and describe the forces that have shaped a labor force in the United States, in particular the role of immigration, unionization, and the differentiations of race and class and gender.
- Define the stages in the development of the structure of enterprise in the United States, compare and contrast the structure and functioning of types of businesses, and explain the transitions in the nature of the business system.
- Describe the relationship of the U.S. economy to the international economic system at key points in history, from colony to economic superpower, and explain the changing nature of that relationship.
- Describe and explain the changes in the class structure of U.S. society throughout its history.
- Identify the main trends in technological development, the role each played in U.S. economic growth and the effects technology has had on the material and economic life of the population.

Grading:

Evaluation of student performance will be based on weekly quizzes, a final, two argumentative essays (past/present pieces), and class participation. The relative weights are as follows. A grade scale is listed below and each component is described in more detail.

Quizzes	25%	Every Friday
Final	15%	See Calendar
Past/Present Piece #1	25%	See Calendar
Past/Present Piece #2	25%	See Calendar
Engaged Attendance	10%	Daily
Total	100%

100-94 A, 93-90 A-, 89-87 B+, 86-83 B, 82-80 B-, 79-77 C+, 76-73 C, 72-70 C-

69-67 D+, 66-60 D, 59 > F

Quizzes

Quizzes will be multiple choice, T/F, and/or very short answer. They will be given every Friday. You will be allowed to drop two quizzes. No makeups will be given except for school excused absence.

Final Exam

The final exam will be a blue book exam. Please acquire an examination booklet (blue book) from the bookstore. The exam will consist of one long answer essay. 5 Study questions will be handed out ahead of time and one of them will be chosen at the beginning of the exam period.

Past/Present Pieces

The Past/Present Pieces (PPP) should be 5-6 page argumentative essays. You will pick a historical event, period, condition, or actor and argue for why they are relevant to modern day policy discussions. Your PPP should establish your understanding of the past event, the present event, and the connection between the two. Lastly, please be sure to argue for a specific understanding or course of action for the present, given your understanding of the past. Assume you are writing for someone who only has a basic understanding of economics.

Some general rules apply to the writing assignments. First, all of these assignments should be typed, double-spaced, using standard font sizes and margins. Second, your grade will be based in part on whether or not you have expressed yourself clearly. Spelling, grammar, and organization matter. Third, if you use material from any source, you must clearly indicate your source, and if you directly quote any material, you must clearly indicate what has been quoted (along with indicating your source). If you quote material without clearly indicating so, you will receive a 0 for the assignment. If you have any questions about this, please discuss them with me. Finally, late assignments will not receive full credit. If you know that you are going to miss class on the day an assignment is due, please make some arrangement for getting the work to me before class. Late work will be docked 10% a day.

Each PPP is divided into steps. Please look at the calendar below for due dates. For each PPP you will provide a topic and sources for approval, then an outline, and finally the finished product. The topic proposal should include a thesis statement and at least three sources. The outline should make it obvious how you will address the past event, present event, and how you will use them to establish your thesis. Due dates are in the calendar below.

If you need help with writing, then please visit the Writing Lab.

Engaged Attendance

Participation points will be based on random attendance checks. Students will also be expected to arrive on time each day. Attendance will be called at the beginning of class. I will select 11 days at random and grade your engaged attendance. You must not only be physically present, but also mentally engaged. I will drop the lowest of the 11 and the remainder will equal 10% of your final grade. Attendance and preparation matter to your grade!!!

Instructor Expectations

I expect students to show up to class prepared, participate in discussion, and not distract other students. If you and your personal electronics become a distraction to other students, then you will be dismissed for the day and warned. If it is a recurrent problem, then you will be referred to the Vice President of Student Services for removal from the class and any disciplinary action that office deems appropriate.

Affirmation of Inclusion:

Bellevue College is committed to maintaining an environment in which every member of the campus community feels welcome to participate in the life of the college, free from harassment and discrimination.

We Value our different backgrounds at Bellevue College, and students, faculty, staff members, and administrators are to treat one another with dignity and respect.

Religious Holidays:

Students who expect to miss classes, examinations, or any other assignments as a consequence of their religious observance should be provided with a reasonable alternative opportunity to complete such academic responsibilities. It is the obligation of students to provide faculty with reasonable notice of the dates of religious holidays on which they will be absent, preferably at the beginning of the term. Students who are absent on days of examinations or class assignments should be offered an opportunity to make up the work without penalty (if they have previously arranged to be absent), unless it can be demonstrated that a makeup opportunity would constitute an unreasonable burden on a member of the faculty. Should disagreement arise over what constitutes an unreasonable burden or any element of this policy, parties involved should consult the department chair, or Dean.

College Anti-Discrimination Statement (Title IX)

Bellevue College does not discriminate on the basis of race or ethnicity; color; creed; national origin; sex; marital status; sexual orientation; age; religion; genetic information; the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability; gender identity or veteran status in educational programs and activities which it operates.

For further information and contacts, please consult College Anti-Discrimination Statements.

Disability Resource Center (DRC):

The Disability Resource Center serves students with a wide array of learning challenges and disabilities. If you are a student who has a disability or learning challenge for which you have documentation or have seen someone for treatment and if you feel you may need accommodations in order to be successful in college, please contact us as soon as possible.

If you are a person who requires assistance in case of an emergency situation, such as a fire, earthquake, etc, please meet with your individual instructors to develop a safety plan within the first week of the quarter.

If you are a student with a documented autism spectrum disorder, there is an additional access program available to you. Contact Autism Spectrum Navigators Email and phone number is on the web page. ASN is located in the Library Media Center in D125.

The DRC office is located in B132 or you can call our reception desk at 425.564.2498. Deaf students can reach us by Skype: the address is DRCatBC (NOTE: There is no @ sign...it is actually DRCatBC). Please visit our website at Disability
