

HISTORY 214 - 5 credits
WINTER QUARTER 2009
INSTRUCTOR: T.A. Perry
PHONE: (425)564-2278
E-MAIL: tperry@bcc.ctc.edu

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Richard White, "It's Your Misfortune and None of My Own" - A New History of the American West.
University of Oklahoma Press, 1991.

Jim Lichatowich, Salmon Without Rivers: A History of the Pacific Salmon Crisis, Island Press, 1999.

Lillian Schlissel, Far From Home, Families of the Westward journey, University of Nebraska Press.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

We shall trace the history of the Pacific Northwest and Alaska within the context of the westward expansion of the frontier and the general development of the American experience. We will then look specifically at the evolution of the Oregon country into first a territory and then the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. We will also investigate Alaska's protracted journey to statehood. We will finish by delving into aspects of each state's subsequent development.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The primary learning outcomes of History 264 are to:

- A. Develop critical/analytical thinking
- B. Develop an historical awareness of regional cultural development within the larger national and global context
- C. Develop an appreciation for the unique contributions of the indigenous natural peoples of the region.
- D. Develop an appreciation for the human element within the trends of historical development

These outcomes will be accomplished by:

- A. Discerning historical bias
- B. Differentiating between fact and fiction
- C. Recognizing cogency of reasoning
- D. Recognizing fallacious reasoning
- E. Comparing and contrasting data
- F. Assessing accuracy and thoroughness of data
- G. Identifying cause and effect in history
- H. Developing inferential abilities
- I. Developing critical judgments about historical developments

Students will then be able to apply these skills in the following areas:

- A. Comprehend the development of historical trends and ideas
- B. Comprehend the forces and factors unique to our region as well as the larger contexts in which we develop
- C. Gain a knowledge of basic geopolitical entities
- D. Gain a knowledge of the shifts in geopolitical boundaries through time
- E. Recognize the role that geophysical realities have played in shaping historical developments
- F. Understand the role that human emotions/behaviors have played in historical trends
- G. Appreciate the role that cultural outlooks/attitudes have played in the formation of each of the following in a regional context:
 - 1. Religion
 - 2. Political Systems

3. Social Stratification
4. Gender Relationships
5. Economic Systems
5. Military considerations/necessities
7. Plastic and Literary Arts
8. Resource Exploitation and Environmental Degradation
9. Science and Technology

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

There will be three exams. To receive credit for this class, a cumulative passing average must be attained on these tests. If any of the exams is not attempted you CANNOT receive a passing grade.

Exam I Due Monday, February 02, 2009 200% (33% of your grade)
This will be a take home essay exam. Questions will be distributed in advance.

Exam II Due Monday, March 02, 2009 (33% of your grade)
This will also be a take home essay exam and a list of essay questions will be distributed one week in advance.

Exam III Due Monday, March 23, 2009 (33% of your grade)
This will be a take home exam due on or before the due date. One question will be comprehensive and one will emphasize the latter one-third of the course. The comprehensive question will focus on material in Lichatowich's work, Salmon Without Rivers...

N.B. For you adventurous "netophiles", my colleague, Graham Haslam, has put together a Web site concerning the history and development of the Boeing Company. In lieu of the shorter final exam question, you may work through this unit as directed on the site. This is a pilot project, and, as such, is optional, lest you be assessed the computer fee levied by the institution for Net access. The URL will be listed on the Final Exam page.

Electronic submission of material has, lamentably, become the order of the day. This modality is not without a myriad of problems, most notably e-mail providers that are more than occasionally unreliable – to wit – a document is sent but does not arrive. IT WILL BE THE STUDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY TO GET THE MATERIAL IN ON TIME, BY WHATEVER MEANS IT IS SUBMITTED. Failure of your "digital service" does not constitute an emergency for me. When I receive an exam, the return message will be "Got it"...IF YOU DON'T GET A "GOT IT", I DIDN'T GET IT – and – it's your misfortune and none of my own!

FINAL EXAMS – DEADLINE:

The FINAL Exam due date is exactly that: A DUE DATE. 2000 Hours on Monday, March 23, 2009 is an ABSOLUTE INVIOLATE, NON-NEGOTIABLE DEADLINE. No material will be accepted by any means of transmission after that time, an "F" grade will be assigned and will not be changed for any reason

GRADING POLICY:

I assign the final letter grades on a straight-forward percentage basis as follows:

A	(4.0) 98-100	C	(2.0) 79-82
A-	(3.7) 94-97	C-	(1.7) 76-78
B+	(3.3) 91-93	D+	(1.3) 73-75

B (3.0) 88-90
B- (2.7) 86-87
C+ (2.3) 83-85

D (1.0) 70-72

I do not curve grades -- but I do make allowances for extenuating circumstances (we all have bad days) and, I tend to emphasize improvement in assigning a final grade.

I have historically been lenient about assigning Incomplete "I" grades. In recent times this policy has become problematic, as students appear to be using the Incomplete as a "cop out". I am amending my policy as follows – A MINIMUM OF 2/3 – 67% -- of the work in any course must be completed or I WILL NOT consider assigning an Incomplete "I" grade.

A note: Many, perhaps even most, instructors will not consider assigning this grade at all.

If you decide that this course is not your "cup of tea," please do yourself a favor and withdraw, rather than simply evaporate "into the mystic." Please note the BCC Summer Calendar on the website or on page 5 of the Summer 2008 Class Schedule for withdrawal dates.

ODDS AND ENDS:

My basic approach in the review sessions will be to offer supplemental media materials to enhance your comprehension of the subject matter, and to encourage questions – the only "stupid" question is the one which needs to be answered but is not asked.

NO CLASS DAYS

Monday, January 19, 2009 (Martin Luther King Holiday)

Monday, February 16, 2009 (President's Day)

Please read the attached policies of the Social Science Division.

READING ASSIGNMENT FOR EXAM I

White: Parts I and II

Ritter: Chapters 1,2, & 3 (Note: As this is an optional text, these are suggested readings for the topics covered in the videos dealing with Alaska.)

A SPECIAL NOTE:

It is the student's responsibility to keep your instructor and/or the registration office apprised immediately of any changes in either his/her address or phone number to facilitate the timely arrival of any and all correspondence related to this course.
