CLASS REQUIREMENTS

1. Discussions & Responses: Course Grade Points

Our online discussion forum will be a weekly part of our class to help you engage in the course material with your classmates. Discussion prompts will consist of multiple questions and these responses will be due by Wednesday of each week. At least TWO responses to your classmates will be due by Sunday of that same week.

Online Discussions Guidelines

Online discussions related to the assigned chapters, videos/films and articles will be assigned once a week. For each discussion, you have to post a response to the discussion prompt provided each week and respond at least twice in response to other students' posts. For the first week of the course, please post your individual response by the end of day on Friday, and post your responses to other students' posts by the end of the day on Sunday. Starting the second week of the course, please post your individual response by the end of the day on Wednesday, and post your responses to other students' posts by the end of the day on Sunday.

Discussion Response. In order to receive full credit for your discussion response, you will need to answer ALL parts/sections of the prompt. Try your best to apply concepts we are covering in the course with specific examples (either from the textbook or from your personal experiences). In-text citations are required within your post – please cite at least once per discussion. Use APA 6th edition format (Example: (Myers & Dewall, 2016)).

Responses to Your Classmates' Discussion Responses. In order to receive full credit for your responses to fellow students, you will need to post a response that shows that you thought critically to develop your response. Your response may include 1) questions of clarification, questions to probe assumptions, reasons, and implications, 2) your interpretation of your classmates' response with additional example(s), and/or 2) whether you agree or disagree with your classmates' responses – you must provide justification for your opinion. You will be graded on completeness and thoughtfulness of your response. Just saying “Great post” or “I agree with you” with no additional input on your end will result in 0 points.

Grading. Each posting each week is graded by no post (no credit – 0 points), incomplete post (partial credit – 2 points), and complete, thoughtful post (full credit - 5 points). You can receive up to 10 points for your initial discussion response, and 10 points each to your responses to fellow classmates. Therefore, you can collect up to 30 points per discussion for 6 discussions (total 6 x 30 = 180 points).

Online Etiquette. Our online class should be an environment where all students feel comfortable sharing their ideas. Therefore, please follow these guidelines when interacting with your classmates online: 1) Do not use offensive language, 2) Be respectful of your fellow classmates – all students should feel that they can speak freely without harassment, 3) Practice critical thinking and active learning – sometimes it helps to read many students' responses to get engaged and to help think of a response, and 4) Make sure to proofread your post before submitting.

2. Quizzes: 250 Course Grade Points

Quizzes will be on the Canvas website (see class schedule for quiz deadlines) and due weekly.

3. Final Exam: 100 Course Grade Points

A cumulative final exam will be given on the last day of classes (50 multiple choice questions).

4. Reflection Papers: 50 Course Points Total

Two reflection papers will be due throughout the course. Papers should be 2-3 pages in APA format.

- a. Reflection Paper #1: League of Denial
- b. Reflection Paper #2: Psychology in Film

5. Choosing a Major Paper: 100 Course Points Total

Throughout our course, you will be exposed to the breadth of psychological science. Using nine of the Princeton Review's list of top college majors, pick a major based on your interests. If your major is not in the list, choose one that is close.

1. Business
2. Nursing
3. Biology
4. Education
5. English
6. Economics
7. Communication Studies
8. Political Science
9. Computer and Information Science

For this paper, you will consider psychology's contribution to the chosen field. Using the material that we have covered, address 3 ways how the topic may be relevant in the field. Use the textbook as a reference and provide examples. Additional references are allowed (but not required). All papers should include an introduction, body, and conclusion. Papers should be in APA 6th Edition format and 3-5 pages, not including the title page and reference page.

4a. Paper Draft for Peer Review: 20 Points

Your first draft of this paper should be submitted online on and is worth 20 points.

4b. Peer Review One Classmate's Paper: 20 Points

Submit a peer review by addressing each section of the rubric provided. This is worth 20 points.

4c. Paper Final Draft: 60 Points

Your final draft of this paper should be submitted online on and is worth 60 points. Use the comments that your peer provided for you on your draft to improve your paper.
