Books and Materials Required

Required Text: Juvenile Delinquency (3rd edition) by Bartollas & Schmalleger (2018). ISBN: 9780134548661 Pearson Publishers. You are also welcome to use the non-hardback version of the e-version of the book. Older editions of this text are not to be used since they will have older statistics and will not contain the most current data in the dynamic field of criminal justice. Note: It is your responsibility to secure the required textbook as soon as possible as it will be needed during the initial week of class in addition to all subsequent weeks of the class.

Classroom Learning Atmosphere

Instructor's Expectations

Since this class does not meet face to face on campus you are expected to attend the online classroom for AT LEAST one hour five times a week. To be successful in this class, you will need to be reading the textbook, viewing the PowerPoint, forum posts, and all other guides posted on Canvas. You must also submit weekly discussion (which is similar to questions that would be asked in a classroom format). If you have never taken an online course I would recommend taking the online tutorial at: <https://bc.instructure.com/courses/411354> to familiarize yourself with Canvas.

Software

Microsoft Word is the only word processor supported at Bellevue College. You must use Microsoft Word or save the assignment in PDF format to submit any documents for the class. Documents submitted in any other format will not be accepted unless directions are provided to submit the assignment in an alternative format, for example, a PowerPoint presentation.

Web Browser

You must use a Web browser supported by Canvas and it must be properly "tuned." Information about supported browsers and how to tune them is posted on the E-Learning website: <http://www.bellevuecollege.edu/elearning> (Links to an external site.)Links to an external site.

Rhythm of this Course

Please read this section very carefully. If you cannot adjust your schedule to the rhythm of the class, you will have difficulty succeeding in this course. Deadlines are firm and the late penalty for this course is strictly enforced regardless of the reason for the late submission in order to ensure fairness for all students. Note, quizzes and discussion forums must be completed during the current academic week only. There are no make-ups on discussion forums or quizzes if you miss them during the current academic week. For assignments, the late penalty is -10% per day. The online class environment has a very different rhythm as compared to the traditional live, on-campus course and each online course is different from other online courses. In this class, the first day of the online "week" begins on Monday mornings at 12:01am and runs through Sunday night at 11:59pm. All work must be submitted by the 11:59pm deadline in order to avoid the late penalty. There are six major components to this course: 1) Reading the assigned textbook, 2) Viewing all lecture material (PowerPoint slides which are not narrated), 3) Discussion Forums, 4) Assignments, 5) Quizzes, and finally, 6) A comprehensive Final Exam. Each of the aforementioned items are discussed in further detail below.

1) Reading the assigned textbook: It will be extremely difficult to pass this course without reading the assigned textbook. It is your responsibility to purchase the required textbook for this class. It is up to your discretion to decide the best time to complete each of the assigned weekly readings however they should be completed prior to other assignments due during the same academic week.

2) Reviewing the PowerPoint Lectures: For each major section of the course, there are accompanying PowerPoint slides that you can download and/or print. Additional information and resources are contained in these lectures, which are similar to those given in the on-campus version of this course. These slides are not narrated so that you can proceed at your own pace.

3) Discussions: There are ten (10) total discussions in this course, including your initial introduction discussion. First, you must do an initial post (your analysis/research and scientific consideration about the discussion topic) before you post replies to your peers. Your initial research post should be submitted no later than Thursday of each academic week by 11:59pm PST. Second, please be sure to read and evaluate the discussion forum contributions of your peers. Third, each student will be required to make a minimum of two (2) replies in response to other students' posts by the end of the on-line week which is Sunday at 11:59pm PST. Fourth, please submit your work over a minimum of three (3) days during the academic week. Ideally, replies should be submitted after your initial post, and later in the week. Note: Discussion forums are semi-synchronous therefore any discussion forum work submitted after the official conclusion of the academic week (11:59pm PST on Sundays) will not earn credit.

4) Assignments: There are a total of four (4) assignments in this course. Specific directions for the assignments will be provided within the modules. Average length submission is between two to four pages long however just remember that the more substantive and detailed all work, the more credit it will receive. Assignments may be submitted late with a late penalty of -10% per day late assessed.

5) Quizzes: There are a total of four (4) quizzes in this course. Each quiz opens on a Saturday morning at 12:01 AM and closes on a Sunday night at 11:59 PM. The quizzes are comprised of multiple choice and short answer questions. 50 minutes is provided to complete each quiz, the same amount of time for on campus quizzes. No late quizzes are accepted for any reason. All quizzes must be completed during the current academic week only in order to earn credit. In order to submit the quiz on time, it needs to be started at least 50 minutes before the due date/time.

6) Final Comprehensive Exam: The final exam is comprehensive and covers all course materials. It will consist of multiple choice questions. It will be due no later than the first official day of final exams (03/20/18) by 11:59 pm. Ninety minutes is allotted to complete the final exam. No late final exams are accepted for any reason so please plan accordingly.

Accessibility

The online elements of this course are designed to be welcoming to, accessible to, and usable by everyone, including students who are English-language learners, have a variety of learning styles, have disabilities, or are new to online learning. Be sure to let me know immediately if you encounter a required element or resource in the course that is not accessible to you. Also, let me know of changes I can make to the course so that it is more welcoming to, accessible to, or usable by students who take this course in the future.

Affirmation of Inclusion

Bellevue College is committed to maintaining an environment in which every member of the campus community feels welcome to participate in the life of the college, free from harassment and discrimination. We value our different backgrounds at Bellevue College, and students, faculty, staff members, and administrators are to treat one another with dignity and respect. Affirmation of Inclusion (<https://www.bellevuecollege.edu/inclusion/>)

Religious Holidays

Students who expect to miss classes, examinations, or any other assignments because of their religious observance should be provided with a reasonable alternative opportunity to complete such academic responsibilities. It is the obligation of students to provide faculty with reasonable notice of the dates of religious holidays on which they will be absent, preferably at the beginning of the term. Students who are absent on days of examinations or class assignments should be offered an opportunity to make up the work without penalty (if they have previously arranged to be absent), unless it can be demonstrated that a makeup opportunity would constitute an unreasonable burden on a member of the faculty. Should disagreement arise over what constitutes an unreasonable burden or any element of this policy, parties involved should consult the department chair, or Dean.

Confidentiality and Mandatory Reporting

As an instructor, one of my responsibilities is to help create a safe learning environment on our campus. It is my goal that you feel able to share information related to your life experiences in classroom discussions, in your written work, and in our one-on-one meetings. I will seek to keep information you share private to the greatest extent possible. However, I am required to share with the Title IX Coordinator any and all information regarding sexual assault and other forms of sexual misconduct (e.g. dating violence, domestic violence, stalking) that may have occurred on campus or that impacts someone on campus. Students may speak to someone confidentially by contacting the BC Counseling Center at (425) 564-2212.

Most importantly, you have the opportunity to understand differing points of view and how they are arrived at by your classmates. You may not agree with those points of view, and others may not agree with yours. The focus of the discussion thread and classroom activities is to use resources from your book and the internet to best support your conclusions and more effectively understand the other person's point of view. Please be accurate and in your responses. Remember, grammar, syntax, and spelling count.
