REQUIRED TEXTBOOK: Getting Real About Race 2nd edition

Catalogue Description:

Explore the role that race and ethnicity play in your life, your community, and the nation at large. Using multiple means of analysis (scholarship, literature, and media), we will investigate how race and ethnicity help to shape American society and identity from both historical and contemporary perspectives. Satisfies either Social Science or Humanities credit.

Welcome! A little bit about me:

As stated above my name is Oriana Estrada and I will be your online instructor this quarter. A little about myself: I have worked at Bellevue college for 7 years, my first 6 years I worked in Student Programs as well, so I am happy to be a resource for any questions you have around student programs and procedures as well as resources available to you on the campus. I have been teaching for two years, my primary subject is Sociology, however, content heavily overlaps between Sociology and Cultural and Ethnic Studies and you will find a lot CES literature has been published by sociologists. I teach Sociology 101 as well as an afro Latin Music and Dance class CES 210 which will be offered Winter and Summer.

I received my undergraduate degree in Sociology as well as a Masters of Social Work from The University of Washington. I was raised in the Central District of Seattle and am a proud Garfield High School bulldog. I identify as multi-racial and multi-cultural and have always been very interested in race relations in the U.S. and beyond and look forward to exploring this subject with you all.

Connecting with me for help:

If this is your first quarter at Bellevue College, I encourage you to establish the habit early on of connecting and communicating with your instructors. I primarily teach in class so while it is harder to connect in an online class I will make myself available to you in a variety of ways: Email, phone, in person office hours, or zoom. Please ask questions, as often as needed, I am here to help!

Class Content:

Race, Racial Identity, Racism! There is a chance these words alone make you feel a little uncomfortable. To many it feels like race is a constant topic in society today and it's true whether scrolling your social media feed or watching the evening news it's hard to escape the topic of race. As the required book for this course suggests we are going to "get real about race" in this course and unpack the historical context which laid the foundation for our current race relations and examine the topic from both an individual and an institutional/systemic perspective.

Since we are not able to have in class discussions the success of this course will rely on active participation in online discussions and activities. Weekly readings, assignments, videos and discussions can be found by following the modules on Canvas. Each week I will open up new material and assignments, please plan on logging on, on a regular basis.

You can expect to regularly submit:

1. Weekly Reading Notes: These are brief notes on the main points of the reading. This helps keep you engaged with the reading and therefore better able to contribute to discussions
2. Weekly Discussion Board: In absence of in class discussions you will be exchanging comments, thoughts, reflections on the course content via online discussion board with your fellow classmates. To get full credit you must not only respond to the discussion prompt but ALSO respond to another classmate's comment for full credit.
3. Papers: You will have submit one final paper
4. Assignments: Throughout the week you can expect a variety of assignment formats from the questionnaire that you will take this week to shorter reflection papers on media. All assignments will be organized within the module.

Late Work:

You can receive partial credit for late work up 10 days after it was due. Please email me you late work.

Grades: You can earn a total of 500 points throughout the course broken down as follows:

Reading Notes 5 points per week 50 points total

Online Discussion 10 points each 100 points total

Assignments 15 points each 150 points total

Final Paper 100 points

Cheating, Stealing and Plagiarizing*

Cheating, stealing and plagiarizing (using the ideas or words of another as one's own without crediting the source) and inappropriate/disruptive classroom behavior are violations of the Student Code of Conduct at Bellevue College. Examples of unacceptable behavior include, but are not limited to: talking out of turn, arriving late or leaving early without a valid reason, allowing cell phones/pagers to ring, and inappropriate behavior toward the instructor or classmates. The instructor can refer any violation of the Student Code of Conduct to the Dean of Student Services for possible probation or suspension from Bellevue College. Specific student rights, responsibilities and appeal procedures are listed in the Student Code of Conduct, available in the office of the Dean of Student Services.

*If you are accused of cheating, stealing exams and/or plagiarism, there is a Bellevue College Student Discipline and Appeals Procedure (the right to due process) which you may pursue. Contact the office of Division Chair (D110), the Dean of Student Services (B231A) or the Associated Student Body (C212) for information regarding the appeals process.

Incomplete

If a student fails to complete all the required work for a course, an instructor may assign the grade of Incomplete ("I"). The student must complete the coursework by the end of the next quarter, or receive the assigned letter grade (usually an "F").

F Grade

Students who fail a course will receive a letter grade of "F."

Withdrawal from class w/o receiving a "W"

College policy states that students must formally withdraw from a class by end of first week.

If a student has not withdrawn by that date, an appropriate letter grade will be assigned for the course.

Hardship Withdrawal

Instructors may assign the grade of “HW” (hardship withdrawal) at their discretion in the event that a student cannot complete the coursework due to extreme and exceptional circumstances. Students may also contact the Enrollment Services office BEFORE grades are assigned in cases of hardship.

Students Who Require Disability Accommodations:

Disability Resource Center (DRC)

The Disability Resource Center serves students with a wide array of learning challenges and disabilities. If you are a student who has a disability or learning challenge for which you have documentation or have seen someone for treatment and if you feel you may need accommodations in order to be successful in college, please contact us as soon as possible.

If you are a person who requires assistance in case of an emergency situation, such as a fire, earthquake, etc, please meet with your individual instructors to develop a safety plan within the first week of the quarter.

If you are a student with a documented autism spectrum disorder, there is an additional access program available to you. Contact asn@bellevuecollege.edu or 425.564.2764. ASN is located in the Library Media Center in D125. www.bellevuecollege.edu/autismspectrumnavigators/

Public Safety and Emergencies

Public Safety is located in the K building and can be reached at 425-564-2400 (easy to remember because it's the only office on campus open 24 hours a day—2400). Among other things, Public Safety serves as our Parking Permits, Lost and Found, and Emergency Notification center. Please ensure you are signed up to receive alerts through our campus alerting system by registering at RAVE Alert Registration

If you work late and are uneasy about going to your car, Public Safety will escort you to your vehicle. To coordinate this, please phone ahead and let Public Safety know when and where you will need an escort.

Please familiarize yourself with the emergency postings by the door of every classroom and know where to go in the event of an evacuation. Your instructor will be asked if anyone might still be in the building, so check in before you do anything else. Emergency responders will search for anyone unaccounted for.

If a major emergency occurs, please follow these three rules:

- 1) Take directions from those in charge of the response -We all need to be working together.
- 2) Do not get in your car and leave campus (unless directed to) - Doing so will clog streets and prevent emergency vehicles from entering the scene. Instead, follow directions from those in charge.
- 3) In an emergency, call 911 first, then Public Safety.

Please do not hesitate to call Public Safety if you have safety questions or concerns at any time. You may also visit the Public Safety web page for answers to your questions.

Affirmation of Inclusion

Bellevue College is committed to maintaining an environment in which every member of the campus community feels welcome to participate in the life of the college, free from harassment and discrimination.

We value our different backgrounds at Bellevue College, and students, faculty, staff members, and administrators are to treat one another with dignity and respect.

Religious Holidays

Students who expect to miss classes, examinations, or any other assignments as a consequence of their religious observance should be provided with a reasonable alternative opportunity to complete such academic responsibilities. It is the obligation of students to provide faculty with reasonable notice of the dates of religious holidays on which they will be absent, preferably at the beginning of the term. Students who are absent on days of examinations or class assignments should be offered an opportunity to make up the work without penalty (if they have previously arranged to be absent), unless it can be demonstrated that a makeup opportunity would constitute an unreasonable burden on a member of the faculty. Should disagreement arise over what constitutes an unreasonable burden or any element of this policy, parties involved should consult the department chair, or Dean.
