Course Outcomes

This course is a survey of the political, social, and cultural history of colonial America up to 1800. Upon completion of the course, students will have learned to analyze primary source documents and identify and explain the significance of key concepts, events, and people in colonial American history. This course may count as a social science or humanities credit, but not both, at Bellevue College.

How Outcomes will be met

Course outcomes will be met through the following assessments: objective quizzes, discussions, and essays about primary and secondary sources.

Grading & Due Dates

This course includes 5 Modules. You are required to complete 4 Modules (any 4—you choose your favorite topic or the most convenient topic).
