

BELLEVUE COLLEGE VIRTUAL INTERNSHIP FAIR

January 21, 2021

Sandra Wong
Workforce Development Program Coordinator
City of Seattle

Build Your Career and Your Community

At the City of Seattle, you can expect challenging work, opportunities to grow professionally, competitive pay, excellent benefits, and a balance between work and life.

City of Seattle Workplace Values

Racial Equity and Social Justice

Inclusion

Learning

Accountability

Stewardship

Types of Internships

- Information Technology
- Communications
- Business
- Marketing
- Environmental
- Public Affairs
- Systems Analysis
- Human Resources

Qualifications

- Each internship posting is unique to what is in an ideal intern.
- In general, we highly value interns who are good key skills:
 - critical thinking
 - proactive
 - adaptability
 - problem solver
 - communication
 - teamwork
 - project management
 - diversity
 - positive attitude

Applying for an Internship

- To apply, go to the City's Career Center website at: www.seattle.gov/jobs and submit an online application.
- Intern Postings are open around the following dates:
 - February 1
 - April 1
 - August 1
 - November 1

Why Intern at the City of Seattle?

Good pay. Undergraduates paid $18.36/hour

Professional and educational development

Free ORCA card

Paid sick leave (after 90 days of initial employment)

Sandra Wong, Workforce Development Program Coordinator
City of Seattle
Department of Human Resources
sandra.wong@seattle.gov

A man with long brown hair, wearing a red coat and brown shorts, is running through a lush green field. He is carrying a large brown paper bag in his right hand and has a backpack on his back. In the background, there is a wooden signpost with three directional signs: 'Countryside', 'The Valley', and 'The Hill'. A white dog is visible in the distance on the right. The scene is set in a rural area with tall grass and yellow wildflowers.

KEEP CALM
AND GO ON AN ADVENTURE